

MYSTERY

Connected With Suicide of Miss Gunder at Kirkersville

Girl Refused to Receive Treatment or to Talk

SHE FELL DYING ON STREET

No Trouble at Home, No Love Affair and in Good Health—Coroner Investigating Case.

Kirkersville, O., Dec. 21.—Miss Minnie Gunder, a respected young woman of this village in western Licking county, committed suicide this morning but the cause is shrouded in mystery.

Miss Gunder fell while on the way from Eugene Long's residence to the home of her mother, Mrs. Alice Gunder. Dr. Rutledge and Charles Law saw her fall to the pavement and they rushed to her assistance, carrying her into Mrs. Gunder's house. The physician offered her an emetic promptly but the girl still conscious refused to swallow the medicine and declined to explain what she had done. In a few minutes she was dead.

Miss Gunder has had no trouble at home, she is apparently not involved in a love affair, she has been in good health and spirits and was particularly happy when she went to church last night to rehearse a Christmas program. The whole town is talking of the tragedy and nobody has as yet been able to satisfactorily solve the mystery. Coroner L. L. Marriott of St. Louisville, has been called and his investigation may bring a solution. At least it will determine what drug was taken to produce death.

Shortly after the tragedy occurred about 7 o'clock this morning, a cup into which the drug had been poured was found on a shelf at Eugene Long's residence and by it was a cork. The bottle has not as yet been found.

Miss Gunder was the daughter of the late Noah Gunder of this place. She has a half brother, Charles Baker, a blacksmith, living at Evansville, Ind., but no other relatives besides her mother. Mrs. Gunder has been sewing while for the past two years her daughter has been doing housework in the village though she returned home each evening.

This morning Miss Gunder, who was about 26 years old, assisted her mother in sweeping the snow off the paths about the house and then started to Mr. Long's house just across the street to prepare breakfast. After preparing the morning meal and while in splendid spirits, the girl turned to Mr. Long and remarked:

"It's too bad, Mr. Long, that you have to get your own breakfast."

Not understanding the remark, Mr. Long replied: "Why, Minnie, you have prepared breakfast. Come, sit down and eat."

Mr. Long says the girl looked strange and acted queerly. She then said that she felt sick and thought she had better go home. She started to the sidewalk and fell. Dr. Rutledge and Mr. Law, who saw her fall, carried her to her home and then Dr. Wells was also called in. Though conscious till her death an hour later, the girl refused to talk of her case or to say what she had taken to end her life.

Miss Gunder was a pretty girl. She was always cheerful and was quite popular about town.

STRIKE OF MINERS

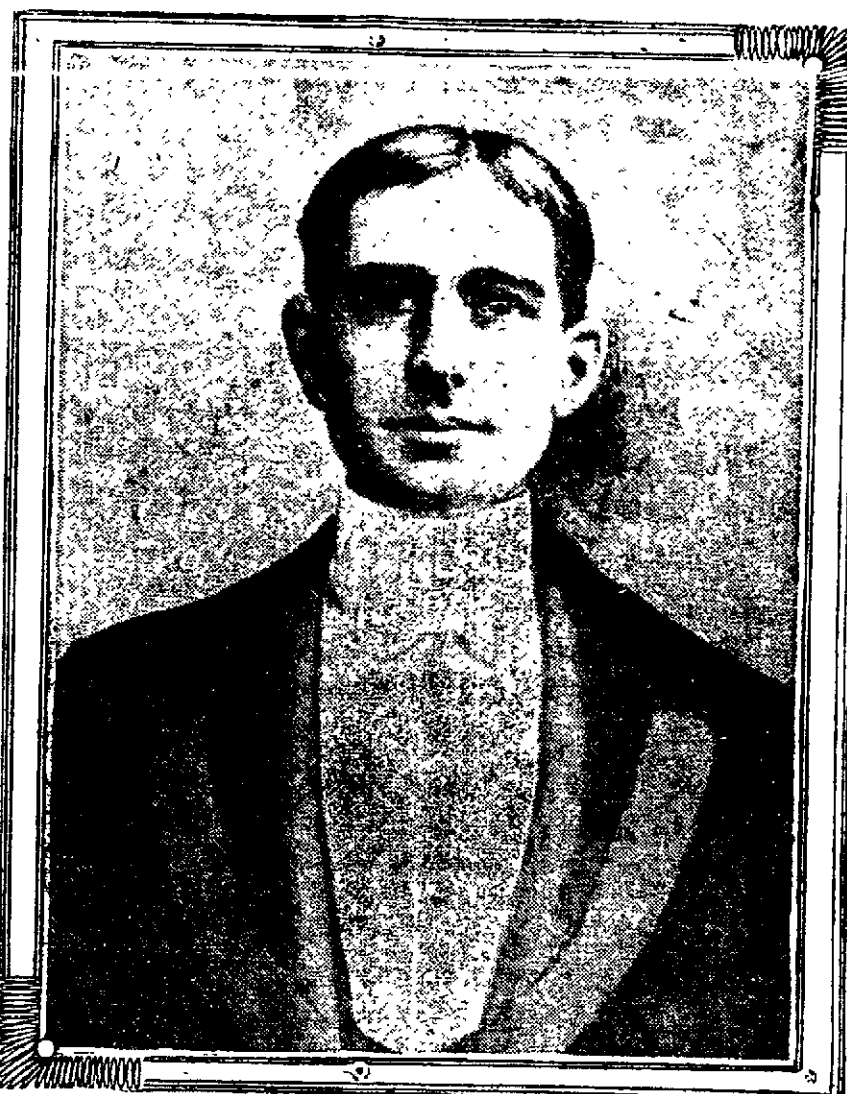

Goldfield, Nev., Dec. 21.—A strike and lockout which threatens to demoralize the mining situation here is in progress. Committees of the Western Federation of Miners presented a demand at all mines for an increase, the minimum to be $4 to $5 a day. The men will object to the presence of deputies, whose duty it was to see that no ore was stolen.

OUTBREAK THREATENED.

Constantinople, Dec. 21.—A serious outbreak against the Sultan is threatened today by dissatisfied sailors who have not been paid for nine months. Abdul Hamid quickly ordered payment of the men when he heard of the affair.

Boston negroes in mass meeting denounced President Roosevelt's message on the Brownsville affair.

MAN WHO WAS KILLED BY BROTHERS OF HIS BRIDE OF ONE DAY

WILLIAM F. BYWATERS

Here is a picture of the man who was shot to death at Culpepper, Va., within a half hour after his marriage the other day. Mrs. Viola Bywaters, the widowed bride, who saw her husband killed by her own brothers, apparently sustains her brothers. She has no regret for her husband. As telegraphed the Advocate yesterday from Culpepper, Mrs. Bywaters has recovered from the shock and in a statement to the coroner gave the details of what happened after her marriage to William F. Bywaters. It is believed her testimony will be a great aid to her brothers in their plea of the "unwritten law."

TECHNICALITIES MAKE DICKERSON SEEM FREE MAN

COSHOCKTON LAWYER FINDS A VERY PECULIAR SITUATION IN MURDER CASE.

JUDGE EASON IS SURPRISED

Will Dickerson Stay in Pen, Be Taken to Coshocton, or Brought to the Newark Jail?

Coshocton, Dec. 21.—"Ben Dickerson is almost a free man, when you come to think of it," remarked a well known attorney. The lawyer explained as follows:

The jury acquitted Dickerson of the first and second counts of the indictment and convicted him upon the third count.

The Circuit judges in their decision say that the evidence "would not satisfy beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant was guilty as charged in the third count."

Yet they hold that the case would not be reversed on the weight of the evidence.

In other words they think the evidence is sufficient to convict Dickerson on the first and second counts but not on the third.

Summarizing, Dickerson has been acquitted upon two counts by the lower court and upon the third count by the upper court.

The attorney brought up another hard nut to crack or rather a hard proposition to get around. The law says a man's life shall not be twice placed in jeopardy for the same crime. Dickerson has been practically acquitted of the first two counts, and yet it is upon these two that the case is to be carried back for retrial.

There is another stumbling block in the way of expediting the progress of the case, but said nothing about what should be done with the prisoner.

Prosecutor-elect McDowell says that it will be necessary to get an order from either Judge Eason or Judge Maxwell now to bring Dickerson back here.

It may therefore be several days before Ben Dickerson reaches the Coshocton county jail and in case a change of venue is granted to Licking, Muskingum, Knox or some other adjoining county, he may not be brought back here at all.

JUDGE EASON SURPRISED.

Wooster, Dec. 21.—Judge Eason expresses great surprise at the granting of a new trial for Ben Dickerson. He expressed curiosity to hear the details of the remanding of the case.

"Of course I will not hear the case when it is tried again," said Judge Eason, "and S. H. Nicholas who will be the other judge in the district can not hear the case because he was one of the attorneys in the matter when it was tried before me, last summer. I rather anticipate that they will ask for a change of venue for the next trial although of course, I cannot tell what they will do."

Judge Eason in denying the motion for a new trial stated that he regarded the evidence as thoroughly sifted at the first trial, which occupied about six weeks, last summer.

GOES TO SUPREME COURT.

Coshocton, Dec. 21.—The aspect of the situation in the Dickerson case was changed when Prosecutor Glenn and his assistants came across decisions under a law recently enacted which gives the state the right to prosecute error to the State Supreme court before a rehearing is required on an order from a Circuit court granting a new trial. The prosecutor and his co-counsel have decided to at once appeal the case to the Supreme court and with that purpose in view have refrained from filing exceptions to the finding of the Circuit court.

The contention of the attorneys for the state is that under the new law, should the State Supreme court reverse the Circuit court, the present verdict would again become effective and Dickerson would have to die in the chair unless pardoned. He can not now be granted a new trial until after a decision by the Supreme court.

CHICAGO BURGLARS HAVE THEIR NERVE

Chicago, Dec. 21.—Burglars broke into the restaurant of Daniel J. Noonan early today, cooked themselves a hearty breakfast, ate the meal, then looted the place and escaped. When they fled they took $45, the cash register, and all the silverware. While in the restaurant the burglars lowered the window shades so that pedestrians in the street could not see them. Their meal consisted of porterhouse steak, pan cakes, potatoes and coffee.

STATE'S RIGHTS AGAIN.

New York, Dec. 21.—A sensation was caused at Archbishop Farley's residence when Dr. James M. Walsh, dean of the medical faculty of Fordham university, brought out the subject of state's rights last night before a large party of church dignitaries. He referred to the days of the Civil war and said: "Is not the time coming again when we may have to look about us and find whether we have men of heroic mold, who will meet the question of rights of the state?"

Bakersfield, Cal., Dec. 21.—With a prospect of being released within a few hours, A. B. Hicks, the entombed miner, is in a jocular frame of mind and laughs and jokes constantly through the tube with his rescuers. It had been hoped to reach him yesterday afternoon, but, owing to the difficulty encountered in a huge bowl—

DONA'S BROTHER AND MOTHER ARE BOTH HELD TO THE GRAND JURY

(Bulletin.)

Dayton, Dec. 21.—Collins Gilman, charged with being an accessory to the murder of Dona Gilman, was held to the grand jury by Magistrate Wagner at the close of the preliminary hearing today. Mrs. Gilman, who did not appear at the hearing, was also held to the grand jury. Fayne Gilman was dismissed.

Dayton, O., Dec. 21.—The verdict of Coroner Kline, which will name an alleged murderer of Dona Gilman was strongly forecasted by Kline's testimony in the Gilman hearing yesterday. He testified that he had on doubt that the murderer was also an assailant.

"And you are satisfied who assaulted her, are you not?" asked Attorney Paterson for the prosecution.

"I am," said Kline.

It is now generally believed that Kline's verdict withheld to prevent prejudice in the case, will name David Curtis, whose confession Kline secured as the murderer.

Curtis will be arrested at the conclusion of the hearing now in progress. Dr. Kline stated that he ordered the second postmortem because of the stories current reflecting upon the integrity of a physician in the case.

"Some of the doctors stated to me that they attended that postmortem confident that they would find evidence of an operation but found none."

Collins Gilman was placed on the stand and repeated his oft told story. "Do you know who murdered your sister?" he was asked, and he answered "No."

His cross examination lasted less than five minutes. The defense will close today. Fayne Gilman will be the last witness.

CROPPED

Her Golden Tresses, Donned Boy's Attire and Chicago Child Saw Holiday Sights.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 21.—Dorothy Eastman, aged 11 years, daughter of C. A. Eastman, a wholesale coal dealer, with offices in the Old Colony building, ran away from home to see the holiday doings in Chicago. All night relatives and the police hunted for the girl. Late in the afternoon, attired in a party knickerbocker suit, a scarlet sweater and a jaunty boy's cap pushed back from her cropped hair, the little blonde masquerader walked boldly into the Hampden restaurant in State street, and into the arms of her uncle.

Then Dorothy wept, and pleaded to be taken home to her mother. She retained only a hazy idea of the department store where she bought and donned the suit of boy's clothing, and the whereabouts of the hotel where she lodged during the night. Before she left home Dorothy trimmed her own golden tresses, but the result

JAPANESE SCHOLAR SUBJECT OF CALIFORNIA'S TEST SUIT.

KEIKICHI AOKI

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 21.—In these days of internal and international complications over the Japanese educational problem in California the most prominent figure is Keikichi Aoki, the ten year old son of Mitsugu Aoki, of No. 2,201 Pine street, who has been selected by Japan and the United States to be the subject of the test case in the courts.

The boy's father refused to send him to the Oriental school when the segregation rule of the Board of Education went into effect. He was selected by Consul Oyeno and was agreeable to the United States district attorney who will present the case to the court for the United States.

So that the whole question of such great importance must revolve around young Aoki until the highest court has decided upon it. By that time the Japanese boy will have helped make several chapters in modern history.

The Board of Education has no objection to the selection of Aoki as the subject for the court action, and from now on the case will make rapid progress in court unless some unforeseen complications arise.

Cynthiana, Ky., Dec. 21.—Curt Jett was found guilty by the jury today and was given a life sentence in the penitentiary for the assassination of James Cockrell in Jackson, Ky., five years ago. While Judge Betts was pronouncing sentence, Jett interrupted and told him he was the only judge who ever gave him a square deal and thanked the jury. Jett is serving a life sentence for the murder of J. B. Marcum.

HAMILTON IS HANGED FOR BRUTAL CRIME

(Bulletin.)

Houston, Mo., Dec. 21.—John Hamilton was hanged today for the murder of the Parsons family. Probably the largest crowd of people ever seen in this city at one time, was attracted by the execution. On October 12 last, Hamilton appeared with Carrie Parsons, over a second hand saddle, on the road near Licking. He shot Parsons, then aided the latter's wife with an ax. Three sons of the couple aged 5, 3 and 1, crawled into the bushes by the roadside, but Hamilton dragged them out one by one and cut their throats.

SCREAMED

When the Hold-Up Victim Used His Fists and Highwaywoman's Secret Was Out.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 21.—A girl dressed like a man, and assisted by a man and another woman, held up and robbed James Knox, of Toledo, here yesterday. The girl robber wore an automobile coat and hat and carried a revolver. She gave no indication of being a woman until she screamed when Knox struck at her.

The trio took all of Knox's money, $75, but gave him back his watch when he asked for it. The police found $18 in bills at the point described by Knox. Knox identified the supposed girl as about 19 years old, 5 feet 5 inches tall and slender.

BANKER AGREES TO TAKE CARE OF DEPOSITORS

VICE PRESIDENT RINEHART IS READY TO PUT UP ONE MIL-LION DOLLARS.

DECLARES HIS INNOCENCE

And Says He Has Not Violated the Rules and Regulations of Good Banking.

Waynesburg, Pa., Dec. 21.—"If it is charged by any one that I have knowingly or purposely violated the rules and regulations of the profession of a banker, it is an absolute falsehood. If it is charged that I have embezzled money entrusted to me at the bank, it is a falsehood. If it is alleged that forgery has been in any manner committed on any paper entrusted to the bank, or dealt in by the bank, it is an untruth. If it is said that the books of the bank have been falsified in any way, it is a lie. If it is charged that risky loans or paper were taken by the bank on account of politics, it is again a falsehood. I tell you and I declare it to all the world that during my career as a banker I have not once stooped to an action that could not bear a thorough investigation. At the bottom of all this trouble I regret to say is politics and there is worse than that—factional politics."

In these words this morning J. B. F. Rinehart, vice president of the Farmers and Brokers National bank, explicitly declared his position. He was not defiant. He was not unduly bold. He was not talking in a boasting spirit.

Rinehart insists that his defeat is only for a time, but he expects soon to recoup—and more than recoup—his personal losses. Speaking further, he said:

"I have agreed to take care of all the depositors and I personally will be responsible up to the sum of $1,000,000."

COLORED MAN LYNCHED TODAY IN MARYLAND

HENRY DAVIS ALIAS CHAMBERS HAD CONFESSED CRIME OF ASSAULT.

FIFTY SHOTS FIRED AT HIM

Masked Men Took Prisoner from the Jail and Strung Him Up—Annapolis Aroused.

(Bulletin.)

Annapolis, Md., Dec. 21.—Henry Davis, alias Henry Chambers, colored, who committed an assault on Mrs. John Reid, 60, at Brownsville, five miles from the state capital, last Friday, and who confessed to the crime was taken from jail here about 3 o'clock this morning by a mob of about 60 masked men and lynched. He was strung up and his body riddled with bullets. About 50 shots were fired. Annapolis is aroused over the affair.

The mob had no difficulty in securing the prisoner. Taking him from his cell they carried him along the road leading to the scene of the crime.

Deputy Sheriff Smallwood said that about 2 o'clock a man appeared outside the jail. When asked what he wanted he said that he had a prisoner. Deputy Smallwood saw that he had no prisoner and refused to admit him, whereupon he left. A few minutes later a mob of about 60 masked men appeared before the jail with a whipping post and endeavored to batter down the door. They were unsuccessful. They left the scene and went to a blacksmith shop where they procured a sledge and pick, and returning to the jail managed to dig a hole in the door. Through this one of the men crawled and unlocked the door. Then five or six men entered the building and mounted the steps to the warden's room.

Warden Taylor, deputies Smallwood and Crouse and nightwatchman Marcellus were in the room. One of the men took the keys at the point of a pistol. They took Davis from his cell and he made no resistance.

The negro was carried through the colored section of the city, but no one interfered. When people appeared at the windows they were warned to remain indoors. The police permitted the mob to have its own way none of the officers, apparently, interfering.

LYNCHERS

Hanged a Man Innocent of Girl Murder, Dying Prisoner Confessing to the Crime.

Omaha, Dec. 21.—It has just come to light that Carl Stierle, who, 30 years ago, was hanged by a mob near the present town of Dakota City, Neb., for the murder of a young woman named Topping, was innocent.

In a letter to Chief of Police Donahue, of this city, O. O. Stierle of New Orleans, a son of the man who was lynched, says Edward Bright, who has just died in the parish prison in that city, confessed on his death bed to him that he committed the murder for which Stierle was lynched.

O. O. Stierle knew that his father met death in Nebraska back in the '70's, but did not know that he was lynched until the dying man's confession revealed the fact to him.

PLAINTIVE

Plea of the Panhandlers Drew From Senator Dick His Last Dollar.

Washington, Dec. 21.—There was a general hold up of Senators and Representatives yesterday, by two young men who got considerable money by the rawest sort of panhandling. The best returns from the shake-down seem to have come from the House, where Representatives J. Adam Bede and Esch each contributed $5. Others donated smaller sums. A plain clothes policeman finally arrested the pair.

The pathetic incident of the affair was the taking away of Senator Dick's last dollar. One of the young men asked Mr. Dick for assistance. The Senator produced a dollar bill, remarking that it was the only money with him.

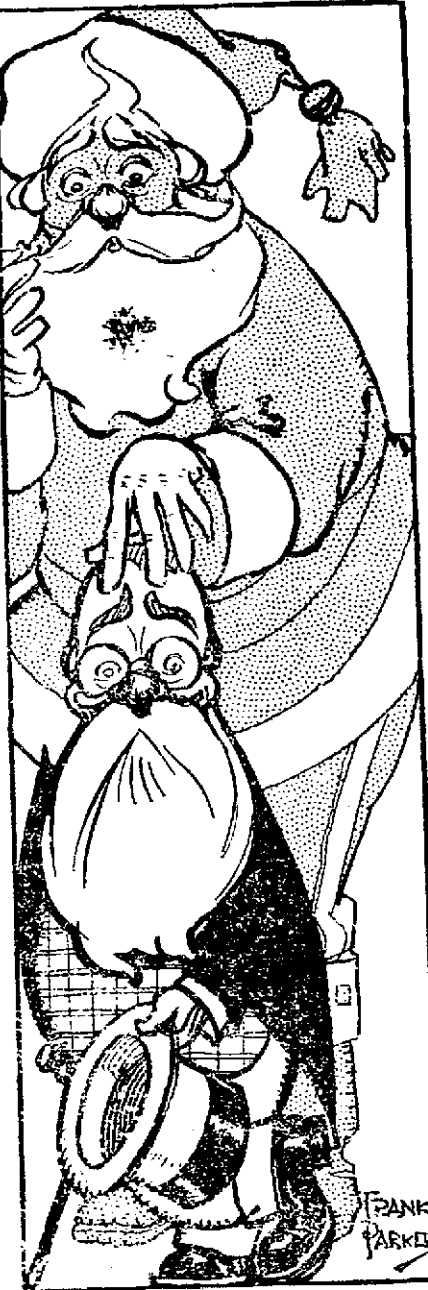

"Well, give me that," said the young man. "It will give me a bite to eat and a place to sleep."

"Here, then," said Senator Dick, with some show of irritation. "If you would take a man's last dollar go along with it."

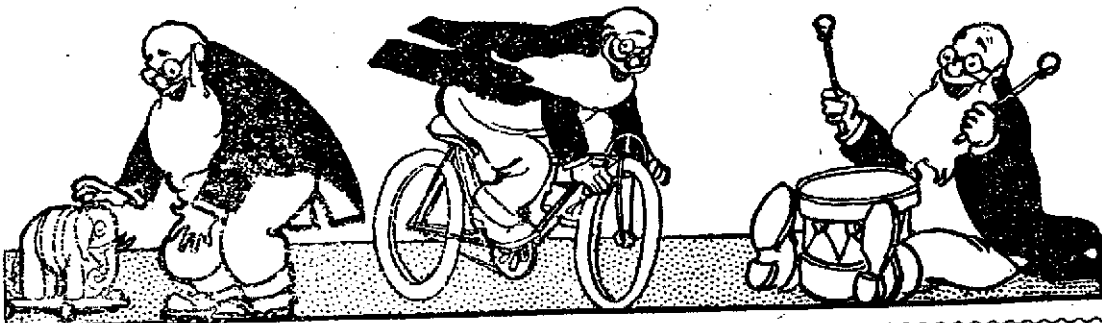

The leader of the two hold-up men gave his name as C. B. Walker and said he was from Milwaukee.

pleased with their trip and have many experiences to relate to their friends. During their stay in Los Angeles they were taken to Catalina Island in the Pacific ocean. There they made a trip in a boat with a glass bottom and were able to see many objects of sea life as deep as 40 feet in the water. They also visited the Grand Canon in Arizona, but were afraid to descend to the valley on the burros, as there was a sprinkling of snow on the ground and they considered it dangerous. They made the trip on foot, a distance of six miles.

both wept when they said good-bye.
She left for St. Paul.

SANTA CLAUS LETTERS

Santa Claus letters have been started out in good season. One recently found is as follows:

"Dear Santa Claus: Please send me
a nice steam table. I can can say
"Who who." Your little boy.

PATRICK C. DOWNEY.
Another is quoted:
My Dear Santa: I would just love to have a suggestion for a new use of the "lid." Jimmy wants a vacation, too.
MAYOR MCCLERY.

One reads:
Dear Santa Claus: Will you not send us our own nice, little, new postoffice?
We need it every hour. We won't loose sleep watching for you so don't be afraid.

YOUR DEAR OLD NEWARK.
The most attractive one which certainly cannot fail to touch the heart of Santa is as follows:

Our Own Santa Claus: Please, please Dearest Santa, send us a nice big building like Newark has and we will not ask for anything else this year.

When They Said Good-Bye Though
the Former Louisville Folk Were Just Divorced.

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 21.—Mrs. Girard Alexander Kremer and Bruce Kremer, formerly of this city, have been divorced at Butte, Mont. Incompatibility was the ground on which the decree was granted. A strange feature is that the couple parted on friendly terms. Mr. Kremer is said to have accompanied his former wife to the station, where both wept when they said good-bye.
She left for St. Paul.

Mrs. Kremer is the daughter of a Louisville dentist. She was first married to E. D. Standiford, a son of Dr. E. D. Standiford who was president of the L. & N. railroad. After her divorce from Standiford Kremer claimed her as a bride.

Who Owns an Employee's Invention?

Many an inventor is not a mechanic and is not even sufficiently practical to work out the details of an invention, so that it is necessary for him to employ the skill of some one else actually to construct the invention. A complete invention act consists of a mental conception of the invention, followed by a reduction of the invention to practice.
If an employer forms a complete mental conception of the invention and then has his employee construct the thing he has conceived, the employee is regarded as the inventor. The relation of employer and employee exists not only where a manufacturer uses his own regularly employed mechanic, but where any inventor employs any mechanic to reduce his invention to practice. In this sense a corporation employed to build a machine embodying an invention would be an employee as to the inventor. If there arises any controversy as to who made the invention—that is, as to whether the employer or the employee made the invention—the presumption is that the employer made it, and the employee must show by convincing proof that he made the invention before his claim will be entertained.—
Edwin J. Prindle in Engineering Magazine.

There Was No Mixation.

The Rev. Eugene Vetroville, an Italian priest who was the pastor for many years at Eastport and who was well known for his missionary labors
among the Passamaquoddy Indians and also for his educational work in their language, having compiled a dictionary and a grammar in that tongue, was extremely conservative in all matters relating to his church and was violently opposed to anything that might change its routine. A young lady of his congregation once urged him to establish a mission in Eastport in order to rouse some of the lethargic members of the church whose spiritual condition the good father had been deploring.

"No, no," he replied, with his quaint accent. "I do not approve of missions.
They make me excited, but their effects are not lasting."
"Oh, yes, they are," she insisted.
"Well, in that case, you do not need one, for you had one three years ago!"
—Boston Herald.

The Cauliflower.

Of the word "cauliflower" a writer in the London Chronicle says: "The modern spelling is artificial, and if we were to write it as we pronounce it,
"collyflower," we should be taking a step back in the natural direction. "Co-leffoye," as they spelled it in the sixteenth century, brings out the true meaning of the vegetable's name—
"flowered cabbage"—"cole" being an old word for cabbage and "forye" representing the French "flor," or "flour," flowered. But because in Latin it was called "cauliflorum" it began to be written "collefforie" or "collyfforie" in English, probably by deliberate assimilation to the Latin, and eventually even to be written "cauli," though still pronounced "colly." Meanwhile the second part of the word got popularly corrupted to "flower."

Lange's Stolen Base.

One of the funniest incidents in base stealing happened in Chicago one of the years that Bill Lange led the league in base running. It was a close race between Lange and Hamilton for the honors in base stealing, and the game was drawing to a close. The game was close, and Lange led off in the eighth inning with a two bagger.
Anson went to bat and laid down a perfect bunt, intending to sacrifice.
He went out in a close finish at first and, looking up, discovered Lange still perched on second. He was furious, but that condition was mild compared to what he experienced an instant later when Lange stole third—and took the lead for base running honors.

Chaldean Weapons.
The analysis of Berthelot not only shows that the Chaldean weapons, ornaments and tools of 5,000 or 6,000 years ago were of pure copper, but that iron, silver and gold were known.
The copper age preceded that of bronze, which appeared later in both Egypt and Chaldaea. It is further noted, moreover, that the form of hatchets with handles, the process of manufacture and even the practical uses were the same for the pure copper hatchets of Chaldaea and the prehistoric hatchets of Europe.

Odd Blunders.

Anthony Trollope was heartily laughed at by his acquaintances for causing Andy Scott to "come whistling up the street with a cigar in his mouth." But what is a slight error of this sort in comparison with Amelia B. Edwards' description in "Hand and Glove" of her hero "passing backward and forward like an overseer on a Massachusetts cotton plantation."

Is This the Average Man?
The average man is still jealous of his helpmate and partner. His ideal at heart is still the farmyard cock, strutting about with all his worshipful hens around him. He is willing to find them nice little bits, but they must not be able to find them for themselves.—

STRIPPED

Of All Her Clothing in the Search for a Lost Time, Alleges the Pret-ty Shop Girl.

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 21.—William
G. Garrison, of Milford, Pa., manager of Kirby's big store in this city has been made the defendant in a $30,000 damage suit filed against him by pretty Miss Bessie Jenkins, aged 14, who until Thursday was one of the most popular clerks under Garrison.

In two petitions filed in the Fayette circuit court Miss Jenkins makes the most sensational charges and says that for the purpose of detecting her in an alleged theft of 10 cents
Mr. Garrison had Miss Minnie Lanck-hart, the head clerk, to strip her of her clothing and make a search of her person while he was present and advised such treatment.

Going further into her allegations
Miss Jenkins says that Garrison and Miss Lanckhart, against her wishes, compelled her to submit to the search and were not satisfied until she was completely disrobed by taking off her clothing, shoes and stockings and each article of clothing carefully examined by them. All of the time, Miss Jenkins alleges, she was compelled to stand in their presence entirely nude.

Miss Jenkins left the store immediately after she was searched and in less than ten minutes she and her father, Samuel Jenkins, a well to do contractor, consulted an attorney and the suit is the result. Miss Jenkins returned home and has not been able to leave her bed, as she is suffering from nervousness caused by her alleged treatment.

Miss Lanckhart is also made a party to the suit. Garrison declines to make a statement.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

JACOB FOX.

Jacob Fox, aged 67 years, a member of Lemert Post, G. A. R., died on Thursday night at 10:30 at his home on Franklin street, after an illness of several weeks, the latter ten days of which he has spent indoors. Death was due to a complication of diseases. The deceased leaves a wife

How Foraker "Stands By Roosevelt."

Behold how Senator Foraker is carrying out the state machine Republican slogan of the late campaign, "Stand by Roosevelt!" He seized his first pretext to attack the President on the first day of the session on the matter of the dismissal of the negro troops who committed the riots at Brownsville, Texas.

Foraker is always ready to ring the fire alarm and try to arouse partisan and sectional feeling. He may also have an eye to the negro delegates from the South to the next Republican National convention. The explanation of the President, however, of his action has proved satisfactory to the best men of all parties and races. He clearly shows that he was not actuated by any prejudice against the negroes as such and that he had abundant reason for his action. Murder had been committed by some members of the companies, and their comrades refused to give information as to the murderers. Every effort was made to ferret out the latter, but without avail. Warning was given that the companies would be disbanded unless the guilty were informed upon. It may be that some were discharged who knew nothing of the crimes of their comrades. If so, it is understood that an opportunity is to be afforded to the entirely innocent to re-enlist. The President cites the dishonorable disbandment of whole white regiments and companies as furnishing sufficient precedent for his action. Certainly there was no lack of justification for his conduct in this matter, and there would have been no such fault found with the President if white soldiers had been discharged for the same offense as that committed at Brownsville.

Running Into Debt.

(Enquirer.)

Justice Brewer of the United States Supreme court, made an address at New Rochelle on the 16th inst. It was largely devoted to the subject of extravagance and debt. He declared that most of the states were heavily in debt, and that cities all over the country were deeply burdened with obligations. One of his center shots was in the following paragraph:

"Contrast the little red schoolhouse of earlier days with the magnificent public buildings—city halls, schools and so on—built by our enterprising cities of this time. If they were paid for it would be all right. They would attest the marvelous growth of our land. But they are built with borrowed money, and they are a mortgage on the future."

And so it goes. The proud prominent citizen takes the visiting stranger in his spring wagon about the town and exhibits to him the great new Town Hall, which cost a tremendous sum of money; and he exploits the splendid new library building, without knowing anything about the books.

and without being able to point to crowds of people rushing through the doors in pursuit of improvement of the mind. He boasts of the splendor and heavy cost of the school buildings, and congratulates himself on the fact that they are ornaments to the city and sure guarantees of the local prosperity. He does not take the stranger to the clerk's office to learn how much indebtedness there is, or explain to him that every bond issued is a mortgage on every person's property. There was a great deal of superior education in the little red schoolhouse. These modest establishments produced many great men. They got a fine start in real learning there, and then if they wanted to be statesmen, or learned men, or business leaders, they hustled for themselves with their hands and their brains. There has been wonderful development of the school system. The enormously increased cost leads to vulgar bragging, but the improvement in learning has not kept pace with the outlay. And posterity is born to hold bags.

The Diplomat.

"You say you want to marry my daughter?"
"Yes, sir."
"Of course you are aware that she has many faults?"
"No, sir."
"Her faults are countless. What do you say to that?"
"I've only to say, sir, that if her faults were as many as the sands of the sea they would be compensated for by a single one of her possessions."
"Ah! You mean her money?"
"I mean her frank and amiable father."
"She's yours, my boy."

Misunderstood.

"What are you doing now, Mose?"
"I'm in de doctor's business. I'm de undahstudy to de doctor hisself."
"Good gracious! What are your duties?"
"I hold de boss while de doctor gets busy."

"Can I sell you a love story?" asked the aspiring young author in the editorial department of the big magazine.
"Possibly," replied the busy editor. "What kind of a heroine have you pictured?"

"Go on."
"And a heart of steel."
"Ah!"
"And sufficient brass to carry her through the world, and plenty of tin to buy a titled husband."
"Whew!"
"But when she riveted her eyes"—
"Hold on, young man. This is a magazine office. I think you had better try and sell that story in a hardware store."—Chicago News.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP BEING CONSIDERED AT WASHINGTON

Public Men of the South Seeking Practical Information From Northern Men Who Have the Knowledge of Experience—60 Cities Have Tried It And Abandoned It.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 21.—The question of municipal ownership is being more extensively and more seriously discussed by the public men of the North and South this winter than ever before. In the South the system has not been tried to any great extent and southern men are making inquiry in regard to it of northern men who have knowledge of the experience of cities where municipal ownership has been thoroughly tried.

About the same story is told by all who have the knowledge that experience has taught. They are quoting numerous instances to show the failure of municipal ownership in the North.

They instance the fact that the League of American Municipalities, of which the president is Mayor Dunne of Chicago, where municipal ownership is rampant, failed to put itself on record as favoring municipal ownership at its recent convention. They mention the many defects of the New York and Boston systems, due to political domination. They speak of the Philadelphia water plant. They quote the experiences of Boston, which has lost eight million dollars in paying to its own satisfaction that municipal ownership is a failure.

Men from the middle west give many instances of the failure and abandonment of municipal plants there. The graft, the incompetency and the political manipulation in the operation of these plants have made them failures. In Hamilton, Ohio, the politicians in power have been getting light and power from the municipal plant for years without paying a cent; the by-products have been sold by the employees, and the extravagance and waste has been such that the unfortunate citizens have to pay the enormous tax rate of 55 on each $100 worth of property.

They tell how Cincinnati, after spending millions on its water plant, is unable to give its citizens an adequate supply; how Springfield, Ill., after wasting much money on its lighting plant without getting good service, turned it over to a private corporation, and now, at far less cost, is getting far better service; how Bloomington, Ill., having made a failure of its lighting plant, is now negotiating with a private company to take charge of it; how Muncie and Marion, Ind., after expensive experiences, have turned their plants over to private companies; how Richmond's mayor, elected upon a municipal ownership platform, now recommends, in order to obtain efficient service that the city lighting plant be sold to a private company. How Fern, Ind., is now compelled to charge its citizens a much higher rate than a private company charged, in order to pay for the excessive cost of operating its lighting plant.

These and similar instances, they say, have practically put an end to the municipal ownership fever in the mid-west, having taught the citizens that municipal plants cost the taxpayers far more and give far less efficient service than the plants of private companies, while at the same time they give opportunity for the establishment and maintenance in power of political rings which are productive of graft and government, and all the worst features of political domination.

The southern congressmen and other officeholders and public men from the south have been greatly enlightened regarding the municipal ownership movement by the experiences of their friends in the north with it and their northern friends are now watching with interest to see if their experience and the fact that in the last few years 60 cities and towns in this country have sold, leased, or abandoned their municipal plants will have any effect upon the people of the south, and will make them stop, think, and investigate whenever they are required to vote for or against municipal ownership.

Moscow's Old Drug Store.

The greatest drug store in the world will be found in one of the most backward countries of the world. It exists in Moscow and is over two centuries old. Its title is the Old Nikolska pharmacy, and since 1533 it has been in the family of the present proprietor. It is a building of imposing dimensions, with many departments, including one of professional education for the staff, which numbers 700 persons. They make up about 2,000 prescriptions a day, and so perfect is the organization that an error is seldom recorded.

A Good Guess of Long Ago.

During the American Revolution an English magazine published an estimate of the North American colonies. Placing the population then at 2,000,000 and assuming that it would double itself every twenty-five years, the writer estimated that in the year 1890 the number would have increased to 64,000,000. This may be taken as a most remarkable prophecy, inasmuch as the census of 1890 fixed the total population at 62,622,250.

Rough on the Doctor.

When a physician takes a vacation his medical friend who looks after his patients in his absence often resents being called the "assistant." The retreating doctor would prefer to be known as colleague or coadjutor or substitute. An old lady recently added a new synonym when she announced that she was being treated by her own physician's "accomplice."

AMUSEMENTS

AUDITORIUM TONIGHT.

Tonight "Nature's Nobleman" the best of all repertoire plays and best with the Murray Comedy company, means as good as can be. "Nature's Nobleman" has plenty of comedy and a good, strong plot, and all the parts show the actors at their best. Tonight new specialties, new pictures, more turkeys, and amateurs. Come and see what they can do. It's always lots of fun. Tomorrow matinee "Foxy Grandpa," for the little ones and Saturday night "The Texan."

MY WIFE'S FAMILY.

"My Wife's Family," Stephens and Linton's merry musical farce, will be at the Auditorium Friday matinee and night next week. This laughable vehicle has met with universal endorsement of the press and public wherever it has been presented, calling forth the highest praise for its consistency of story, bright comedy lines, complicated humorous situations and catchy musical numbers.

ORPHIUM THEATER.

Bradley & Davis, the singing and dancing actors, who are at the Orphium this week, will leave for the east after they have delighted the theater goers of Newark. That they

BRADLEY & DAVIS, At the Orphium Theatre This Week.

they give one of the best dancing acts in vaudeville has been proved by their fancy and funny dancing. Do not fail to attend the Orphium this evening. Big amateur contest in connection with the regular vaudeville performance.

GREAT SOUTHERN.

The Great Southern Theatre, Columbus, will offer on Christmas day, one of the foremost actresses of the present period, Madame Modjeska. For the past few years she has been in retirement, but like other prominent players she was unable to remain away from the stage. Madame Modjeska has attained distinction as one of the most able interpreters of classic plays of the present century. During the engagement at the Great Southern she will offer at the matinee Schiller's "Mary Stuart" and at the night performance Shakespeare's "Macbeth." Both of these roles Modjeska has made for the present generation of theatre goers distinctly her own. No actress within memory achieved the triumph in the role of "Lady Macbeth" that Madame Modjeska has. Her name has become accepted as a synonym for "Lady Macbeth." In Schiller's "Mary Stuart" she has also won great distinction.

On Wednesday, Dec. 26, the Great Southern will offer again two of the most distinguished players of the day, Henry B. Irving and Dorothea Baird. Mr. Irving is a son of the late Sir Henry and Dorothea Baird is one of the most able actresses of the English capital. Mr. Irving and Miss Baird won great favor in New York, where they received capacity audiences. The same thing was true when they appeared in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Chicago. During no week this season at the Great Southern theatre will such an opportunity be given to see masterful interpretations of the great classics of the drama.

Gladstone's Lack of Humor.

It was universally acknowledged that Mr. Gladstone's memory was prodigious, but there was a certain lord chief justice of England who thought the statesman's memory of his feats of memory more prodigious still. On one occasion after listening to what seemed to him a "tall story" of some happening of the great man's early years the lord chief justice determined to go him one better. So he said that he remembered when he was only six months old, and lying in his cradle, he saw his nurse surreptitiously help herself to a glass of brandy and said to himself:

"As soon as I can speak shan't I tell my mother!"
"The thing is absolutely impossible," was Mr. Gladstone's comment in his gravest tone.

The lord chief justice said afterward that he had been beaten because he had reckoned on Mr. Gladstone having a gleam of humor.
"I was mistaken," he said sadly.

Mixed Metaphor.

Mr. Spurgeon was a keen collector of mixed metaphors, finding a rich field in the correspondence that daily overwhelmed him. Two or three are given in the Cornhill. A lady inclosing a small contribution for his schools wrote, "I hope this widow's mite may take root and spread its branches until it becomes a Hercules in your hands." The pulpit prayers of ambitious preachers added something to the great preacher's store. One prayed that "God's rod and staff may be ours while tossed on the sea of life, so that we may fight the good fight of faith and in the end soar to rest." Still another prayed, "Gird up the loins of our minds, that we may receive the latter rain." "As if we were barrels whose hoops were loose," was Mr. Spurgeon's laughing comment.—St. James' Gazette.

Bustling Mme. de Stael.

In my last letter I mentioned going to visit Mme. de Stael. She was just going out as I got to the door, and but for Mr. Rogers, who was coming out as I went in, I should not have gained admittance. There were many persons with her, and she was running about and talking as fast as possible. Her dress and manners are very extraordinary. The news of Lord Wellington's victory had just arrived, and she descended upon it with much animation. I cannot better describe to you the bustle she makes than by saying that, leaving her, the streets of London seemed solitary, for as to noise and hurry and rapidly in the succession of events there is as much difference between her room and them as between them and the park at Bultrode.—London Athenaeum.

The Peacock at Home.

The real home of peacocks or peafowls is in India. There they were and are hunted, and their flesh is used for food. As the birds live in the same region as the tiger, peacock hunting is a very dangerous sport. The long train of the peacock is not its tail, as many suppose, but is composed of feathers which grow out just above the tail and are called the tail covers. Peacocks have been known for many hundred years. They are mentioned in the Bible. Job mentions them, and they are mentioned, too, in I Kings x. Hundreds of years ago in Rome many thousand peacocks were killed for the great feasts which the emperors made. The brains of the peacock were considered a great treat, and many had to be killed for a single feast.

The Uncharitable Game!

Golf is considered bad for the temper, but even on a golf course one will not see anything approaching the rudeness that is to be seen on the croquet ground. If a golfer "fozzles" a ball or gets "bunkered" he may throw his club about and use a little bad language, but he will not accuse the opponent of cheating and refuse to speak to the unfortunate person for the rest of the day, which a croquet player frequently does.—C. Slow Working Weavers.

There are weavers who turn out only one yard of stuff a year. They are the Gobelin tapestry weavers, who work in the factory in Paris, which is owned by the French government. They average in the year only from one to three yards of goods, according to the fineness of the weave and the intricacy of the pattern. These weavers work at hand looms, where they put in the filling, or weft, with a shuttle held in the left hand. The back of the tapestry is toward them. A mirror shows them the other side. Baskets of wool in every shade or color surround them. They use 1,400 tones in all. Skilled as these workmen are, their pay is no bigger than that of the ordinary American laborer. They get about $600 a year on an average, or about $12 a week. These Gobelin tapestries, requiring years in the making, are of course very expensive. An offer of $30,000 wouldn't get some of them. New Gobelins you can't buy at all. The French government has them made to give away as presents to its friends—people of power and position.—New York Press.

India Rubber.

Caoutchouc was introduced to Europe by M. de la Condamine on his return from Peru in 1736. "It is," said its discoverer, "a most singular resin, as much by the use to which it is devoted as by its nature, which is a problem to our most expert chemists. It flows from a tree growing in several parts of America and is called caoutchouc by the Mainas Indians on the banks of the Amazon." Long before Charles Macintosh began to make his waterproofs in 1823 the natives of Quilto were using the rubber for the same purpose as well as for boots and bottles and many other things. The new struggle for popularity in England, Dr. Priestley probably did more than anybody else to make its novel qualities known, for in 1770 he popularized it forever by showing school children how it could be made to efface pencil marks.

Burrah.

"Hip, hip, burrah" is a modern phrase. The "hip" and the "burrah" do not seem to have come together before the nineteenth century. In the eighteenth century hip amounted to just "hi," or "hello," while "burrah" was then usually "huzzah." It is like the Cossack "Ora!" but it is supposed to have been a German cry of the chase adapted by the German soldiers to war and borrowed from them by the English, perhaps first of all at the time of the Thirty Years' war. "Hurra!" is said to have been the battle cry of the Prussians in the war of liberation (1812-13). Still, the curious fact that seventeenth and eighteenth century writers call "Huzzah" a sailors' shout lends support to the conjecture that it may really have been the hoisting cry, "Hissah!"

Whistler a Brilliant Talker.

Whistler was a brilliant talker and a great debater. I shall never forget my surprise when I heard him say for the first time, "Bacher, I am not arguing with you; I am telling you." I never forgot the lesson. Later I found that he had used this effectively in one of his letters to the London World when he said: "Seriously, then, my Atlas, an etching does not depend for its importance upon its size. I am not arguing with you; I am telling you." He spoke French fluently, German less readily. His Italian was very good, especially under excitement, though occasionally a French word slipped in unawares, adding to the picturesqueness. I recall that he considered Poe our greatest poet.—Otto H. Bacher in Century.

Had Plenty of Confidence.

Augustus Thomas, the well known playwright, was talking about first nights and the heartrending anxiety of them. "On my own first nights," he said, "I am a pitiable object, utterly without hope, convinced in advance that my play is bound to fail. At such times I often wish I had the self confidence of Charles Reade. He, after he had dramatized his novel 'Never Too Late to Mend,' wrote on the margin of a certain passage, 'If the audience fails to weep here, the passage has not been properly acted.'"

British Choral Societies.

If in the pure artistic sense the British people cannot be said to be musical, there are, it must be admitted, individuals in multitudinous numbers who cultivate with eagerness both vocal and instrumental music. But there is unquestionably no people who devote as much time and earnest study and practice to choral singing as the English, and this from the sheer love of it.—Edward St. John-Brenon in Strand Magazine.

Old Leprosy Laws.

In the earliest code of British laws now extant—namely, that of Huel Dha, a famous king of Cambria (the present Wales), who died about the year 950 A. D.—we find a canon enacting in plain and unmistakable terms that any married woman whose husband was afflicted with leprosy was entitled not only to separation, but also to the restitution of her goods.

Footling the Boss.

Casey—Ye're a har-rd worrucker, Doo-ley. How many holds o' mother have you carried up that ladder th' day? Doo-ley—Whist, man; O'm footlin' th' boss. O've carried this same hodful up an' down all day, an' he thinks O'm worrugin'.

A Bungle.

HUMOR

STORY WITH A MORAL.

Two Fleas That Didn't Know When to Let Well Enough Alone.

Two fleas were sitting on a dog who was wandering about the streets when one of them said: "Brother, what a degraded, half starved lot is ours. Here we have chosen to unite ourselves to a common street cur, who wanders from alley to alley. We see nothing but the most dismal sights. We hear no elevating conversation or delightful small talk. Surely there ought to be something better in store for us than this."

"You are right," said the second flea. "Look, my brother! Here is a carriage approaching. It is evidently some highborn lady bent on a charitable enterprise. In her lap sits such a beautiful little terrier. Let us therefore make an effort to better ourselves."

"Splendid!" said the first flea. "We will live amid the most luxurious surroundings. We will feed on the fat of the land. We will sleep at night in a clean bed."

And so in a few bold but successful jumps as the carriage stopped they both landed simultaneously on the back of the terrier. In a short time they were driven to their new home.

So delighted were they with their new life that the two fleas could scarcely contain themselves for joy.

Their manifestations, however, were so unusual that the terrier frantically scratched himself, which attracted the attention of his mistress, who immediately sent for a physician, who at once gave the dog such a radical treatment that the two fleas were slowly drowned in a horrible fluid that came like a flood and surprised them before they were able to get away.

"Alas, brother!" said the first flea as he gave a dying gasp. "Why could we not have been satisfied with our humble lot?"

BERRYHILL GIVES OUT NAMES OF FOUR MEN—"SNOW" RELEASED

Meeting of Directors With Manager Berryhill in Attendance Held Last Night--New Company Outlines Policy for Season of 1907--New Men Are Good.

Manager—Robert E. Berryhill.
Released—Walter A. Snodgrass.
Signed—Pitcher E. E. Ascher.
Catcher—Wm. C. Pierce, Jr.
Infielder—James Pierce.
Outfielder—Bluford Walls.

The first real big meeting of the new directors of the Newark baseball club was held last night in the city building when the directors of the new club met the new manager, Robert E. Berryhill and got down to business for next season.

The meeting was called by the president in order to settle up all the affairs with the old officials and to get a new start. Manager Berryhill arrived in the city shortly before 8 o'clock and went at once to the city building where the meeting was in progress. The old officials were present during the early part of the meeting in conference with the new directors and at this time all the books, papers, contracts and correspondence was turned over to the new management. Points of interest concerning last season's work and plans for the new year were discussed by the old and new officers together, after which the old officers took their departure. Mr. Berryhill was then called in and was introduced to those of the new directors who had not met him before.

The directors and Mr. Berryhill then got together and agreed upon terms and defined his duties. Berryhill then signed a contract. Berryhill will be the manager and captain of the team. He will have full control of the team on and off the field. He will always be in uniform whether in the game or on the bench and will direct the work of the team from either his position in the field or on the coaching line. There will be no other captain unless Berryhill is indisposed or unless it is temporary only.

Then came the business of 1907. Berryhill announced that he had signed four men. This has been stated before but the contracts were last night presented to the new officials and after being signed by President Stasel will be forwarded to the president of the league.

The new men are William C. Pearce, James Pierce, E. E. Ascher and Bluford Walls. It was also announced that Walter A. Snodgrass, manager of the Newark club during the latter part of the season, was released outright. It was regarded by the directors as an injustice to have Snodgrass report in the spring so he was given his release that he might sign where he wants to.

William C. Pearce Jr., catcher, who is now in Los Angeles, Cal., is regarded by Berryhill as being a second Bert Blue. In fact the new manager thinks he is a shade better than Blue. He is six feet one inch in height and weighs 185 pounds. He is better than Blue because he has more ginger, and his whip to second is quicker and just as true. In speaking of the improvement in this department of the game Berryhill stated that it was 100 per cent. better than last year with the new men.

The new catcher got his training in baseball at the Culver Military Institute and generally makes his home in Indiana. He played independent ball there last year.

James Pierce, the new infielder comes from Indianapolis, and is a timely hitter as well as a good base runner. Berryhill watched him play last fall after leaving Newark, with the All Professionals in a number of exhibition games and was struck by his ability and at once made arrangements to sign him.

E. E. Ascher is regarded as another good "find." He is a right hand pitcher and stands fully 6 feet tall. He has something of Stoupe's action while working in the box but is a more seasoned player. His home is at Paragon, Ind. When Berryhill saw him work, he pitched against Gus Bonno, the former Cincinnati Red and also a member of the Urbana team before the days of the protective association. The game was a pitcher's battle in which Ascher won out without any trouble. Berryhill regards him as being one of the best in the business.

Outfielder Bluford Walls is from

Sore Throat Don'ts

When the children have sore throat, don't blister their necks with lamp oil. Don't torture them with a foul smelling piece of fat meat, wrapped about the neck. Don't imagine there is medical virtue in an old sock or piece of red flannel. Don't believe in antiquated superstitions.

A sore throat is a serious matter and is not to be healed by such make-believe remedies. The use of such methods is simply putting the patient to needless torture. Use a little sore throat wisdom and give them TONSILINE and the throat will heal quickly. 25 and 50 cents at all druggists. The Tonsiline Co., Canton, Ohio.

Hartford City, Ind., and played independent ball last season. He is a glassworker and is a good hitter as well as a fast fielder.

After discussing the players signed, other business was taken up. A letter was read from Danny Davis. He told the directors that he was just leaving a hospital in Covington, Ky., his home, after undergoing an operation for injuries received in a game last season. The operation is successful and Davis is now O. K.

The policy of the baseball company was then adopted. The directors will insist on good team work and will insist that every player keep himself in good condition throughout the season. The "night lark" business practiced by some last season will not be tolerated and the playmanager will be instructed to enforce this without regard to players. When a fine is assessed by the manager it will be paid and will not be remitted as was done several times last season.

It has been decided to spend several hundred dollars in improvements at the park. There will be another entrance made to the grounds to avoid congestion at the big gate on big days. This will make it possible to keep tickets on sale in down town stores, probably several places on the square.

The outfield will be improved in order to make it smooth and even. This will be laid to drain the out and infield and as this was a big objection last year, the field should be in pretty good shape when the season opens.

The question of letting the privileges at the ball park and the election of a ground keeper was postponed as this can be done at any time.

This places the baseball situation for 1907 in pretty good shape and from all present indications Newark will get a good start.

Manager Berryhill was seen by the Advocate Friday morning and in the interview he said:

"I argue this way: When I came here last fall the team was losing regularly. The team was strengthened and commenced winning right off. Out of the last thirty or thirty-five games played we won twenty-three or twenty four, showing that the team was stronger than earlier in the season."

"We know the weak places in the team now and we have taken steps to bolster these up. Our catching department is 100 per cent. stronger than last year and this was one of the team's weakest features. There was a lack of harmony and team work among the players and this has all been remedied."

"With these objectionable features eliminated why can't the team start right off in the beginning of the season and win a goodly percentage of the games. There are some changes on the team which are being contemplated. If an opportunity offers to make a trade to strengthen the team the management would be foolish to turn down the chance. There will be no favoritism from the management this year. The best man is the one who will win his place on the team."

YOUNGSTOWN GETS STARR.

Youngstown, O., Dec. 21.—Charles Starr of Pittsburgh, has been signed by Manager Hogan of the Youngstown team for the coming season. Starr formerly played with St. Louis Americans and with their Youngstown team in 1904-5 and with the Harrisburg team of the Tri-State League last year. He is considered one of the best in the business and will strengthen the local team.

ANNUAL MEETING

Of Baseball Commission Will be Held in Cincinnati—Jan. 7 the Date Agreed Upon.

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 21.—The annual meeting of the National Baseball commission will be held in this city on Jan. 7. That date was agreed upon at a conference between Chairman Herrmann, President Johnson of the American league and Secretary Bruce. The schedule committee of the National and American leagues will meet here at the same time to eliminate conflicting dates from next season's schedule.

BOWLING

The "Music Hall" ten pin bowlers are getting in fine form now. Their bowling shows up with the best in the state. Nothing less than 230 and from that to 260 wins the prizes given away every week. Yesterday the ten pin record was broken, the fine score of 264 was made. The game was started with eight straight strikes and finished with two spares.

The former record was 259.

Tonight will finish the first round of the City league, between the Gimlets and Consumers. This successfully completes one-third of the season's schedule. The president is well satisfied, but expects to see better bowling the rest of the season. There will be no more games after tonight until after the holidays.

On Music Hall alleys last night the Railroad club took two out of three games from the Spring club, although the Spring won out in total pins. Railroad got second game by only six pins. Some changes are being made for next month. The Railroad still holds first place and Strollers and Flickers tie for second. Scores:

Totals ... 813 760 673 2246

On Thursday and Friday, December 27 and 28, the manager of the Music Hall alleys will give an individual tournament. This is for local bowlers only. It is expected to be the largest meet of bowlers ever held in Licking county. Great interest is already shown in this grand meeting of bowlers. No less than 75 to 100 entries are expected. For information and particulars see D. W. Baker at the bowling alleys.

Sunday, December 23, the Flicker club of the City league will go to Columbus to bowl the Nationals of the South Wood league. This promises to be a good game as both teams are fast.

SHOT FIRED AT JUDGE CUTTING IN COURT HOUSE

Chicago, Dec. 21.—While the rotunda of the criminal court building was thronged with lawyers and court attaches today, a well dressed man giving the name of Frank Fred Ellerbrook, aged 53, attempted to shoot and kill Judge Charles S. Cutting of the Probate court as he was about to step into an elevator. The jurist was not injured. The would be assassin was caught.

One shot was fired by the man, who attempted to fire again, but his revolver would not work. The shot heard throughout the building and women stenographers and clerks were thrown into a panic.

The man who did the shooting was recognized by Judge Cutting as a witness in a suit. He was taken to a cell where he declared he had been defrauded in an estate of $30,000.

The basement floor was crowded and many women were in hysterics after the shooting.

The life of Judge Cutting was probably saved because of the inability of the would-be murderer to discharge his revolver after the first shot was fired. The weapon failed to discharge a second time, though the man pulled repeatedly on the trigger.

The man was under the delusion that he was in the disposition of an estate of which he is one of the heirs.

"The man is evidently insane," declared Judge Cutting. "I can account for the attack in no other way. He has never threatened me, and I know nothing that would cause him to attempt to take my life."

Ellerbrook is a German American, and a salesman.

JUDGMENT AFFIRMED.

Columbus, Dec. 21.—Damages in the sum of $5,859 is the judgment given the Akron Canal and Hydraulic company against the Northern Ohio Railway company, affirmed by the Supreme court today. The damages were for injury done the hydraulic company by the railroad building a bridge abutments in 1898 when the canal caused an overflow, cutting away its banks and doing damage at Akron.

NEWARK TOOK ONE FROM DENNISON

SCRAPPY GAME AT PALACE RINK DELIGHTED SMALL CROWD OF POLO FANS.

Dennison Was Outplayed All the Time by Fast Newark Rushers—Good Team Work by Newark.

Newark 6, Dennison 1.
The scrappiest game of the season, one in which both teams fought bitterly for supremacy, was the game at the Palace rink Thursday night between the Dennison polo team and the Newark team, in which the locals won out by the decisive score given above.

The contest was featured by the team work of Barker and Heath, as well as the good work of Center Smart. For Dennison Thompson, Quayley and Carr were stars though the whole team played fast. Their chief trouble seemed to be in keeping on their feet and keeping up with the pace set by the Newark team.

Thompson of Dennison did succeeded in caging one goal in the first period and in the last frame he drove the red ball hard into the Newark cage, but the force of the drive was sufficient to cause the ball to leave the cage again on the rebound.

To illustrate the alertness of the Newark team as compared with the visitors it can be stated that the Dennison team did not win a rush throughout the game. Heath got to the center of the floor first on six of them, but the last time he missed the ball in an attempt to hook it back to Barker, who was following. That was the only time Dennison got credit for winning the rush.

Heath's first goal came after two minutes and 50 seconds of play. The ball had been in Dennison's territory all that time and finally Heath played over to one side of the cage while Barker toyed with the ball on the other side. A quick shoot of the stick and the ball went to Heath, who drove it into the cage for a clean goal.

In seven minutes more Thompson tied the score by sending the ball into the same cage. It took Barker but 2:40 to cage the next one and the first period ended with the score, Newark 2, Dennison 1.

In the second period Smart, Barker and Heath caged the ball for goals. Smart's goal came when he was playing in front of his opponent's goal. The ball was slipped to him, and before the goal tender saw the red sphere it was in the cage.

Barker scored one in the last period after eight minutes of play and Thompson's "in-and-out" came in this period. Lineup and summary: Newark (6)—Heath, first rush; Barker, second rush; Smart, center; Laker, halfback; Sweetzer, goal.

Dennison (1)—Mohr and Woods, first rushes; Thompson, second rush; Quayley, center; Carey, halfback; Carr, goal.
Dennison ... 1 0 0-1
Newark ... 2 1 6

Summary—Rushes: Heath 2, Barker 3, Smart 1, Thompson 1, Fouts. Thompson 1, Barker 1. In-and-out: Thompson. Referee, Daken. Timer, Roeser.

A Stage Episode.
When Mrs. Bellamy was acting Alicia in "Jane Shore" the king was present among the audience. Apparently the play was not so potent as the wine his majesty had taken at dinner, for he fell asleep, greatly to Mrs. Bellamy's annoyance, for she drew near to his box and with a most violent exertion of voice which the poet admitted of cried out, "Oh, thou false lord!" and woke the king, and thus, like Macbeth, she murdered sleep and revenged herself on his majesty.—From "Annals of Covent Garden Theater."

Willing to Help Along.
The cranky old bachelor was irritable. Calling the landlady, he said: "Mrs. Hasley, who is it that keeps singing 'I Would Not Live Alone'?" "That is the lady in the room across the hall, sir," answered the landlady. "Well," continued the C. O. B., "kindly give her my compliments and tell her if she keeps that up much longer she can rest assured she won't."—Chicago News.

Character.
There is a tremendous power in character when added to ability. A great many youths think that ability is everything; that if a man has brain power he can accomplish most anything, but he is a lightweight man, no matter how able, if he does not add character to his ability.—Success Magazine.

Not Ahead.
"They say that Shifter is ten years ahead of his time."
"Well, it's not true. I'm his landlord, and I know he's just six months behind."

Be grateful for every hour and accept whatever it brings.—Thoreau.

THE "LIVING IN" SYSTEM.

Hardships of Shop Assistants in English Business Houses.

"Shop assistants" and clerks in retail and wholesale houses and similar establishments in England often endure great hardships on account of the survival of the mediaeval "living in" rules by which they eat, sleep and work all under the same roof. A determined effort is now being made to do away with the evils of the system. J. Macpherson, general secretary of the Union of Shop Assistants, quotes Dr. Norman Kerr as follows: "It is impossible for me to find language strong enough to convey a hundredth part of the mischief which I have seen arise from the excessive hours of labor of shop assistants who have been under my professional care. The great length of the hours at work I have seen break down strong constitutions, seriously aggravated as the evil has been by the dyspeptic misery and disease induced by the necessary boiling of food through the far too short period allowed for meals."

Secretary Macpherson writes: "The following house rules indicate the 'homelike' nature of the accommodation provided, not only for young people, but equally for adult men and women: 'No pictures or photos are to be displayed on the walls. Any one so doing will be charged with the repairs. All bedrooms must be cleared by 8 a. m. On Sundays bedrooms to be cleared by 10:30 a. m. and not entered again till 12:30 p. m. Assistants must not lean out of the window or loiter in the passages or doorsteps or pavements near the house and are on no account to bring strangers into the house. No flowers to be put in water glasses or bottles. House door is closed at 11 p. m. Gas turned off fifteen minutes later. Any one having a light after that time will be discharged.'

"That the employers will not relinquish such a profitable source of revenue without a struggle is obvious," the same official continues. "Take the following illustration: An employer boards and feeds a staff of 500 assistants. He decides to reduce the cost of breakfasts to the extent of 1 penny a head per diem. This economy in housekeeping gives him an additional profit of £760 ($3,800) a year on the cheeseparing of one meal alone. The unfortunate assistant, who can leave if he doesn't like the food provided, must deplete his meager wage to buy extra food to satisfy hunger or to tempt the palate to swallow the unappetizing fare provided by the firm."

A Modern Samson.

Possessed of Samsonlike strength, Albert Fisher of Quebec saved his life by a remarkable exhibition of his power. Fisher was employed at a stone crusher, and his duties consisted in feeding rocks into the huge machine. To aid this he stood on a platform just above the crusher. He had just dropped a fifty pound boulder into the machine when his foot slipped and he fell headlong between the steel jaws.

No person was near to stop the engine. Bracing his shoulders against the steel crushers, which were slowly closing, the sturdy workman exerted all his great strength in one powerful effort. For a moment the machine stopped, then the massive sides drew apart, and finally there was a rending of the steel joints, and the crusher fell to pieces.—Philadelphia North American.

Frugal King Leopold.

A few years ago King Leopold of the Belgians made a Norwegian tour and in due course drove overland in a chaise to Stavanger, where one of the large hotels was stirred by the news that it was about to be favored by royal patronage. The dinner hour of the other guests was postponed in order that the king might have the huge dining room for his sole use, and other preparations were made for his majesty. The sumptuous repast was served in style, apparently to the king's complete satisfaction. At the end of the repast he beckoned to the maitre d'hotel and without a word banded him in settlement a tourist's coupon. Even when on pleasure bent King Leopold has a frugal mind.

Bad Men of the West.
Searchers for real western color with which to illuminate their tales of the frontier have for some time been complaining that all the snap and ginger of the old life in the west had departed. To a certain extent this is true. The genuine Indians have nearly all followed the buffalo over the divide into the happy hunting grounds of the Great Spirit. The modern cowboy is less careless with his shooting iron and his branding iron than he was in the old days, but it is an error to believe that all of the picturesque deviltry which gave color to early days in the west has been eliminated. The bad man with the gun out on the fringe of civilization is fully as bad as his predecessor of earlier years.—Portland Oregonian.

The "Bobs" of America.
A London writer calls General Miles the "Bobs" of America. In describing the famous soldier this writer says: "Despite his valorous record and his sixty-seven years he is a Beau Brummel. With his perfectly fitting frock coat, gray tie, gray suede gloves, tan spats, tan waistcoat and gleaming patent leathers, this grizzled campaigner could give points to any Burlington Bertie. He is remarkably handsome too. With his Roman nose and pointed chin, his upturned eyebrows and mustache and his piercing eyes, he reminds one of an eagle scenting its prey from afar. It is a soldier's face, and the man's whole aspect is militarism personified."

BURIED AT HOMER.

Fredericktown, O., Dec. 21.—Mrs. Ann Butler, one of the oldest residents of Fredericktown is dead at the age of 89. She is survived by ten children. The funeral took place this afternoon at 1 o'clock and the body was taken to Homer for burial. Mrs. Butler had been making her home with her daughter, Mrs. George Reed.

THEY DIED TOGETHER.

Brink Haven, O., Dec. 21.—Stephen Workman and Josiah Workman, cousins, died Tuesday near the same hour and their funerals were held on Thursday, both being buried in the Workman cemetery.

CIRCUIT COURT HERE JAN. 10TH

JAS. F. LINGAFELTER CASE IS TO BE HEARD IN THIS CITY ON THAT DATE.

Bill of Exception, Filed and Case is Now Ready for Hearing in the Circuit Court.

An adjourned session of the Circuit court of this county will convene here on January 10, to hear two cases especially assigned for that time, being the case of Roebeling vs. The Shawnee Valley Coal company, and the case of J. F. Lingafelter vs. The State of Ohio. It will be remembered that in the latter case when the Circuit court at Zanesville granted a stay of execution in the case of Mr. Lingafelter, it granted a stay only January 12, 1907, and set the case for hearing on the 10th of January. It is likely that the case will be disposed of that week. The bill of exceptions in the case has been filed and the case is ready for hearing.

Sutter Divorce Granted.
Probate Judge Bister heard the divorce case of Daniel Sutter against Mary R. Sutter on Friday morning. The parties are middle aged people, who live near Pataskala. They have been married 12 years and have two children, both girls, aged 11 and 4 years. The plaintiff charged his wife with gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty, and in addition to a decree asked for the custody of the children. Eugene Moore and Phil B. Smythe represented the plaintiff. Attorney B. F. McDonald some time ago filed an answer for the defendant, who abandoned the case and made no contest. The court, after hearing the evidence granted a divorce to the plaintiff, and for the present left the custody of the children with the mother.

Taken to Lancaster.
Gilbert Hafer, sentenced to the Boys' Industrial School at Lancaster, by Probate Judge Bister, on the charge of jumping on moving trains, was taken over to that institution Friday morning by Sheriff Redman. The boy is aged about 14 years, and has been at the school once before.

In Common Pleas.
In the case of Black vs. The Newark and Granville Street Railway Co. when court adjourned Thursday evening, the defendant was introducing its testimony. The further trial of the case was continued until Wednesday at 9 o'clock.

Indorses Roosevelt's Action.
New York, Dec. 21.—Dr. Lyman Abbott, speaking at a dinner in celebration of Forefathers' day, the 26th anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims, took occasion to indorse President Roosevelt's action regarding the negro troops at Brownsville. "President Roosevelt has been subjected to much criticism," said Dr. Abbott. "He is a friend of the negro. It is as a friend of the negro that I speak for my friend, our president."

Threw Niece From Window.
Chicago, Dec. 21.—Mrs. Maurice Seiene, believed to be demented, hurled her niece, Gladys Hirsch, 3, from the third-story window of an apartment building at 4023 Vincennes avenue. The child was fatally hurt. Mrs. Seiene has been subject to attacks of temporary insanity.

Bank of Horatio, Ark., was looted by two robbers who covered the cashier with their pistols and appropriated all the money in sight, about $4,000.

SCENES ALONG THE PANAMA CANAL TAKEN FROM THE FIRST ILLUSTRATED PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

PATRICK WILL CONTINUE FIGHT
NOW THAT LIFE HAS BEEN SAVED

Governor Higgins Gives Reasons for Commuting Death Sentence—Case Unparalleled in History of Country—Wife Carried News to Her Husband.

Ossining, N. Y., Dec. 21.—Lawyer Albert T. Patrick, who after four years in the death house at Sing Sing has had his sentence commuted to life imprisonment, as wired to the Advocate yesterday, announces that he is not satisfied with the commutation and will at once begin his fight for freedom. A writ of habeas corpus will be applied for, it is said in the United States court, making Warden Johnson the defendant.

The first news of the action of Gov. Higgins was taken to the prisoner's cell in the death house in Sing Sing prison by his wife Mrs. Patrick. She left New York immediately upon receipt of the news from Albany and upon her arrival here she was permitted to go at once to her husband's cell.

Patrick seemed not at all surprised to learn that the governor had interfered to save his life.

Albert T. Patrick has stood in the shadow of the death chair for nearly five years. He was convicted March, 1902, of the murder of William Marsh Rice an aged New York millionaire. In a brief memorandum, laying stress upon the dissenting opinions of the judges of the Court of Appeals, which affirmed Patrick's conviction by a vote of 4 to 3, the governor announced he had commuted the death sentence.

Later in the day the governor strongly intimated a doubt of Patrick's entire sanity, attributing his mental state to the strain under which the condemned lawyer has labored all these years in the death cell at Sing Sing.

The governor was shown a dispatch from a New York newspaper to a correspondent, in which it was asserted that Patrick denied having sent the governor any appeal for clemency, would refuse to accept the commutation and insist upon his "right to die."

"Patrick cannot determine what his punishment shall be," said Governor Higgins. "He is mistaken if he says he sent me no application. In fact, I have several; one, in particular, asking for a pardon. He will have to be careful or he may find himself in Mattewan. The long strain seems to have been too much for him."

In announcing the commutation, Governor Higgins issued the following memorandum:

"Albert T. Patrick has been convicted of the murder of William M. Rice, and the judgment of conviction has been affirmed by a divided court. It is not claimed that Patrick committed the murder in person, but that he procured the act to be done. He has been convicted principally on the testimony of Charles F. Jones, who confessed that he murdered his master, while he lay asleep, instigated thereto by Patrick, and Jones, by this testimony has purchased his own immunity from punishment. Neither this fact alone, nor the review of any of the acts already passed on by the courts at some stage of these proceedings, would seem to me to warrant interfering with the judgment of death pronounced against the defendant, but three of the seven judges of the court of appeals were so strongly of the opinion that errors were committed at the trial which were substantially prejudicial to the rights of Patrick that I feel that the death penalty ought not, under all the circumstances, to be inflicted.

"In view of all these, and the grave doubts expressed by these judges, I am satisfied that I ought to relieve the defendant from the extreme penalty of the law, and commute his sentence to imprisonment for life."

The case of Patrick is unparalleled. It is doubtful if ever before a convicted man has played so large part in the conduct of his own case, even turning his narrow quarters in the "death cell" of a state prison practically into a law office.

Rice died September 23, 1900. Patrick and Jones were arrested October 4. Jones at first declared that Patrick himself had chloroformed Rice, but in the confessions, which varied materially, he said he killed his master at Patrick's instigation. This statement was the principal evidence to sustain the murder charge against Patrick. Jones was never tried, either as a principal or as an accomplice. He was released and is said to be living in Texas.

Patrick was convicted March 27, 1902, and sentenced to death. Since then his fight has been continuous. In every court in the state open to him he has made his appeal, but always in vain. Patrick's brother-in-law, John T. Miliken of St. Louis, is said to have financed his battle at great cost. It is known, however, that Patrick intends to continue his efforts to establish his innocence.

Boys Drown.

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 21.—Harry Ackley and Silas Morrison, two 11-year-old boys, were drowned at Layton, near here, while coasting. The boys lost control of their sled while coming down a steep grade and plunged into a reservoir of a brick company. The bodies were recovered.

President Roosevelt occupied the entire stage in Congress Monday, when he sent to that body three special messages, embodying about 30,000 words, dealing with three subjects in which he takes very great interest.

Divided into topics, the President entered into these discussions: The visit of the President to Panama, 27,280 words; advocacy of the passage of the Naval Personnel bill, 1,000 words; advocacy of amendments to the Public Land laws, 1,800 words.

Mr. Roosevelt's message on his visit to Panama detailing the personal experiences and observations of Mr. Roosevelt during his investigation of the work in the canal zone has already been printed in the Advocate. It contains 26 photographs of work on the canal taken while the President was on the ground. It breathes a strong spirit of optimism regarding the ability of the United States to complete "this giant feat of the ages." The President is particularly severe on those Americans who have criticized the work at Panama without just grounds, and says:

"I feel for them the heartiest contempt and indignation, because in a spirit of wanton dishonesty and malice they are trying to interfere with and hamper the execution of the greatest work of the kind ever attempted, and are seeking to bring to naught the efforts of their countrymen to put to the credit of America one of the giant feats of the ages."

President Roosevelt makes these recommendations and announcements:

A seven headed commission is a clumsy affair and there should be one commissioner, with heads of departments under him.

Employment of best engineers in the country as consulting engineers should be expressly permitted.

Dr. Gorgas is to be made a member of the commission is the law as to its composition remains unchanged.

Several thousand Chinese laborers are to be given a trial.

President Roosevelt in his message on the Panama Canal gives a detailed account of his three days' visit to the canal zone and the cities of Panama and Colon in November, showing how from 12 to 15 hours a day were spent in going over and inspecting all there was to be seen and in examining various employees.

The President pays tribute to the amount of work done by the French Canal company, declaring this company "never made a better investment" than the $40,000,000 paid to the French company for its betterments and the Panama railroad.

His inspection, at the height of the rainy season, convinced the President of the wisdom of Congress in refusing to adopt either a high level or a sea level canal.

Mr. Roosevelt points out that the first problem to be solved—on the solution of which success of all the rest of the work depended—was that of sanitation. This has been from the beginning under the direction of Dr. W. C. Gorgas, and the President tells congress Dr. Gorgas is to be made a full member of the Canal Commission.

UTICA PRESBYTERIANS WILL ELECT CHURCH ELDERS SATURDAY

Re-election of Present Board Means Indorsement of Action Against Pastor Gay— Election Ordered By Presbytery's Commission.

Utica, O., Dec. 21.—There will be a congregational meeting in the Presbyterian church of Utica at two o'clock tomorrow, December 22, to carry out the order of the commission of Presbytery which was as follows: "That the church adopt the rotary system of eldership, and in order to do this it is necessary for the present board of elders to resign for re-election."

When the rotary system is adopted by the church, the elders will be divided into three classes. At the meeting Saturday one class will be elected for three years, another for two, another for one. It will be the privilege of the church (1) to re-elect the present board; (2) to re-elect part, or (3) to elect an entirely new board.

All members in full communion in the church have a right to vote at this meeting. Members are expected to be present and express themselves by ballot, or, forever afterward hold their peace.

It seems to be pretty well understood that the above is to be a measure of the church membership on the action of the session in calling Rev. T. Boyd Gay to account for his conduct. The re-election of the former session, composed of Albert Smoots, Prof. Householder, Howard Kirkpatrick and Cameron Stinson will be an indorsement of the dismissing of Gay, while their defeat and the election of others will be an endorsement of the Gay supporters. It is said that the Gay people have a ticket for which they are canvassing to secure pledges, but at least two of the persons named as being on the ticket have said that they positively will not be candidates.

VICTIMS OF DISASTER BOARD STANDS PAT

Dead and Missing Number 14 While Several Others are Injured in South.

Vicksburg, Miss., Dec. 21.—According to the latest news obtainable by telephone from places near Gold Dust Landing, where the steamer W. L. Seovell blew up, the list of dead and missing totals 14 and the injured include four white men and several negroes. The white dead are: Captain John A. Quarndon, master, Vicksburg; L. Wade Quarndon, Vicksburg; the clerk, Joseph Smith, Yazoo City; Leval Yarnall, Jackson. The other 10 dead and missing include negro deck passengers and rousters.

Raisuli Must Withdraw.

Paris, Dec. 21.—The exact situation in Morocco is as follows: The diplomatic representatives at Tangier are committed to demand the retirement of Raisuli from his present position. If Sid Mohammed Ghabbas, the Moroccan minister of war, upon his arrival is not strong enough to compel the bandit to withdraw, the French and Spanish warships here will land men with the approval of the diplomatic representatives for the purpose of restoring the authority of the sultan.

San Francisco School Board Members Issue Reply to Mrs. Harris' Communication.

San Francisco, Dec. 21.—Mrs. Flora B. Harris, now residing at Tokyo, and widely known as a missionary, addressed a communication to the San Francisco board of education in which she deplored San Francisco's attitude toward Japanese in public schools. The board of education has framed a reply asserting that the Japanese have not been excluded from the schools despite the fact that no less a personage than the president of the United States has employed a similar assertion in framing a message to congress, and notwithstanding the wholly unfair report made of the entire school incident by the secretary of commerce and labor Victor H. Metcalf. Continuing the reply says: "The fact that the president of the United States frames against a loyal people scathing criticisms regarding a matter which is purely one of local concern does not in the least deter the people of the Pacific coast, who, after all, are doubtless the best judges of their own immediate needs and welfare."

At Ft. Worth, Tex., A. B. Wharton was robbed of jewels valued at $3,000.

RAIN OF ASHES

Another Portion of Crater of Vesuvius Falls in Causing an Eruption.

Naples, Dec. 21.—Another portion of the crater of Vesuvius fell in and caused a great eruption of ashes, cinders and sand. It was not preceded or accompanied, however, by either detonations or earth shocks. For a period of 20 minutes a rather heavy rain of ashes fell over Naples, and another portion of the crater on the side toward Pompeii fell in later. The rain of ashes created considerable alarm in the more populous quarters of the city.

Looking Over the Island.

Havana, Dec. 21.—Brigadier General Bell and Mrs. Bell, accompanied by the general's aide, left for Santiago. From that place the party will go to Guantanamo and Baracoa, then return on horseback to Santiago. The purpose of General Bell is to study strategic conditions.

CARDINAL DYING

Former Papal Delegate to United States Martinelli Has Been Ill at Rome.

Rome, Dec. 21.—Cardinal Martinelli, who was formerly papal delegate to the United States, has been ill for some time past with facial polyp, which the surgeons diagnosed as non-malignant, and an operation was performed. After the operation, however, the fever of the patient increased and he suffered a hemorrhage, becoming so weak that death is feared. The last sacraments have been administered to the cardinal.

Missing Manuscript.

Rome, Dec. 21.—In the chamber of deputies Prince Tasca interrogated the government concerning the disappearance from the secret archives of the chapter house of St. John in Lateran of an autograph manuscript by Palestrina, which is reported to have been sold for $60,000. According to the law of guarantees, St. John in Lateran is included in papal territory.

FORGERY CHARGED

Cashier Rinehart of Farmers and Drivers Bank at Waynesburg Accused of Crime.

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 21.—Cashier J. B. F. Rinehart of the Farmers and Drivers' bank at Waynesburg, was charged with forgery in addition to the charge of making false statements to the controller of the currency in connection with the closing of the bank by government officials a week ago. The charge of forgery was brought at the instigation of the Greensburg Trust company.

Negroes Hanged.

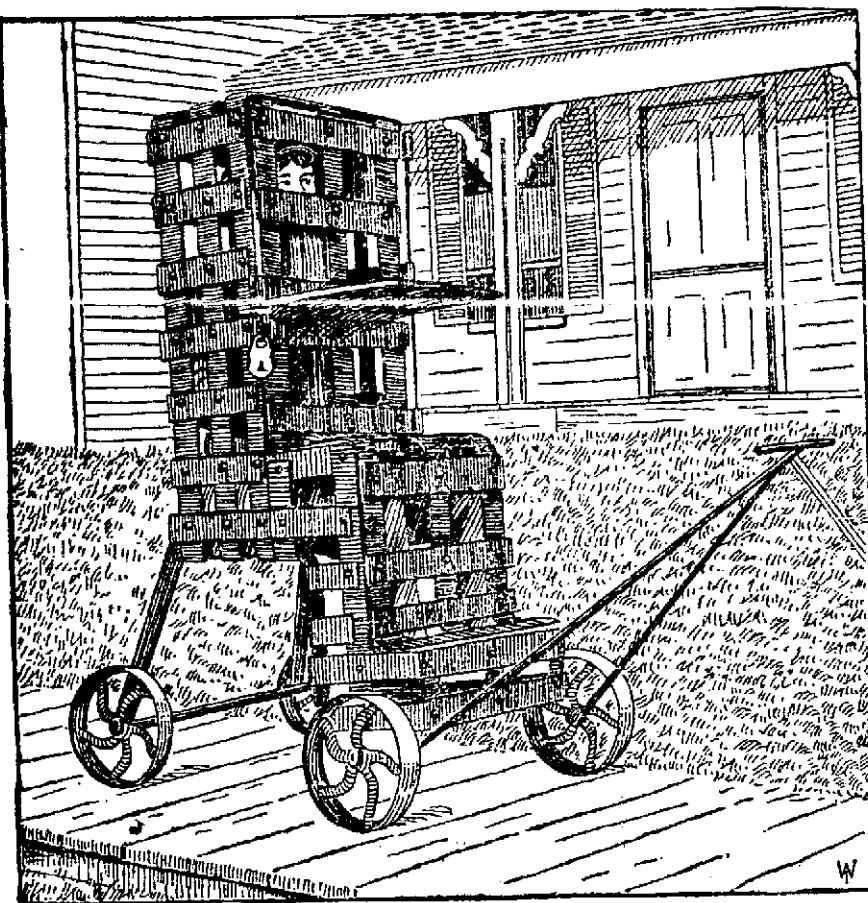

Knoxville, Tenn., Dec. 21.—Will and Drew Upton, negroes, were hanged at Madisonville, Tenn., for the murder of Richard Johnson, an aged pensioner, on the night of Jan. 7 last.

New Postmasters.

Washington, Dec. 21.—New Ohio postmasters: C. R. Crum of Forest; D. C. Corbett of Payne.

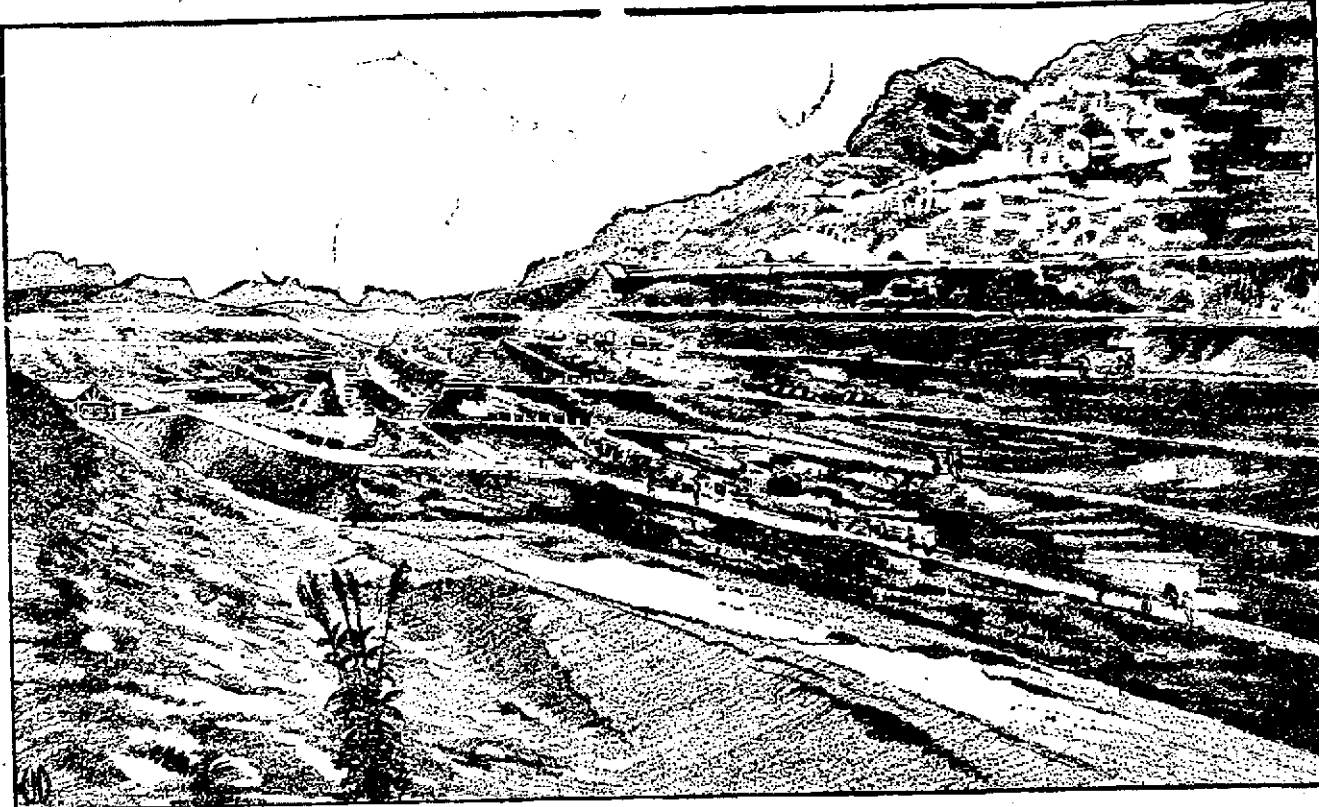

THE PICK OF THE UP TO DATE NOVELTY MARKET

A YANKEE METHOD OF DEALING WITH TRAMPS.

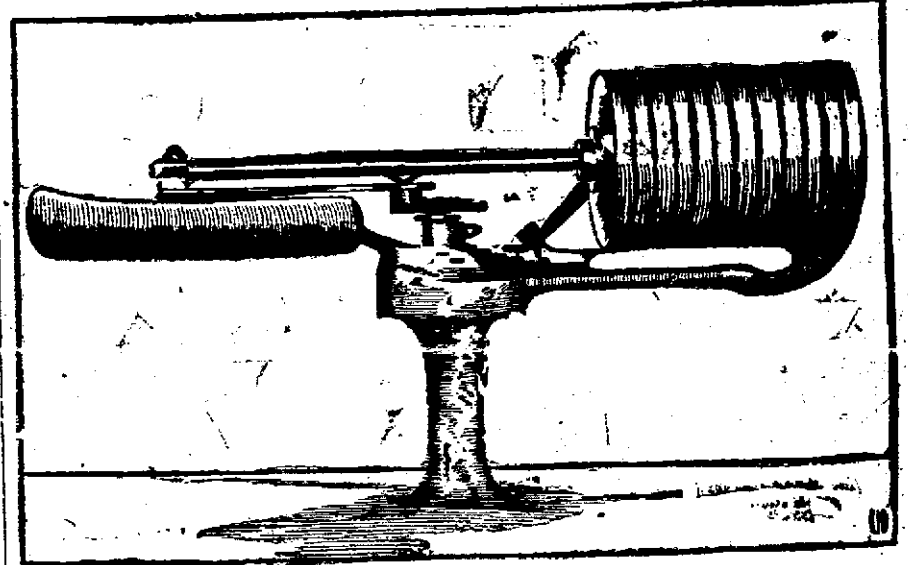

The curious vehicle in the picture is the invention of an inhabitant of one of the tramp infested regions of New England. It is a chair prison and has been used in Maine with good effect. As may be seen from the cut, it is not replete with "creature comforts," and those "gentlemen of the road" who have partaken of its hospitality do not speak well of it.

THE MOST CONVENIENT COAL MINE IN THE WORLD.

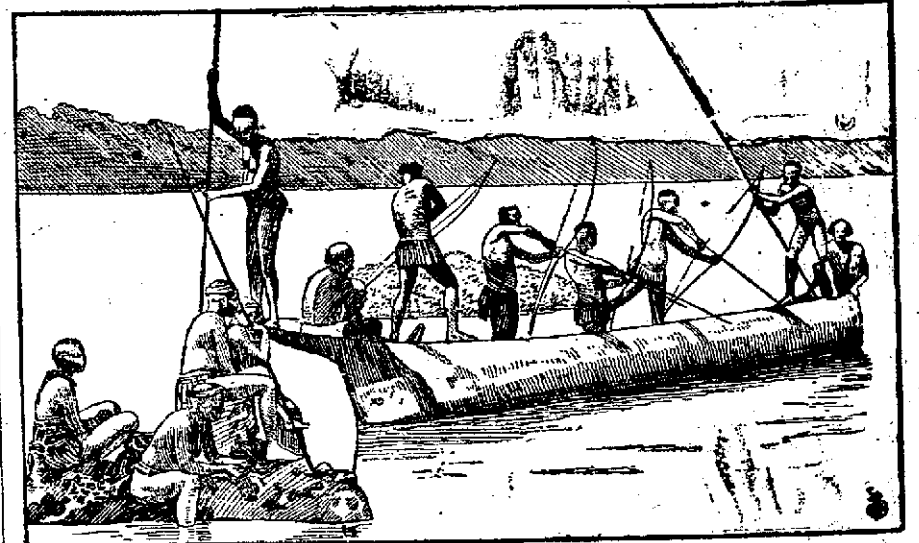

The open air coal mine shown in the picture is at Hongay, in French Tonquin. The working is on the side of a hill which is a solid block of coal about 200 feet in height. To get at the coal it is only necessary to remove a thin layer of schist on the surface. The coal is of an excellent quality, and about 1,000 tons are mined per day. This mine is conducted by a company of European capitalists, who employ 3,500 natives.

AMERICA'S FIRST MARINE ENGINE.

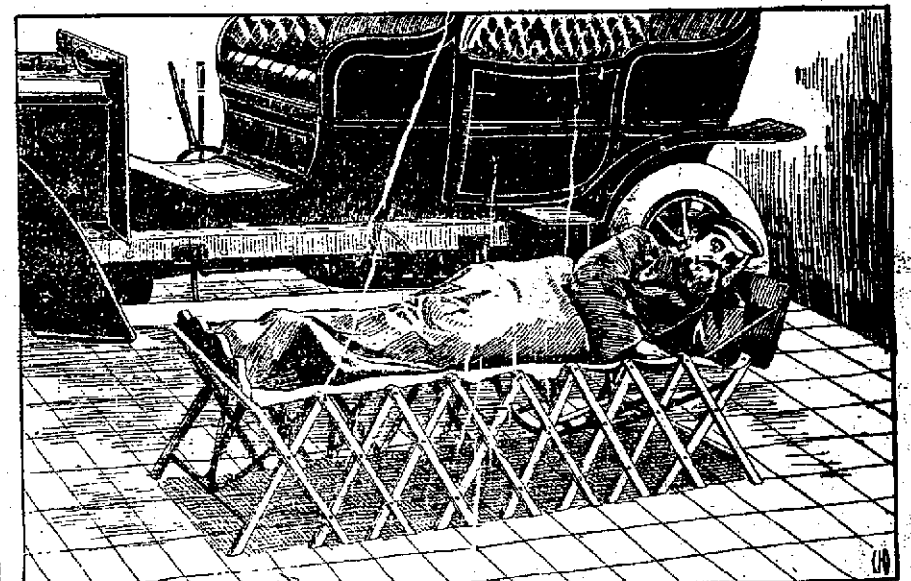

The picture shows the model of the first steam engine ever used in this country. In 1792 a small engine built from this model was used to propel a boat on the Connecticut river. That was seven years before Fulton built his steamboat. The model is less than a cubic foot in bulk.

SOUTH SEA ISLANDERS SHOOTING FISH.

In the south seas and in the various groups of islands in the Indian ocean the natives shoot fish with the bow and arrow. The art is very difficult, and it takes long practice to arrive at perfection. This is because the archer must aim at an object under water and must allow for refraction. If he were to aim at the fish as he sees it, he would miss.

THE AUTOMOBILE BEDSTEAD IN USE.

An ingenious inventor has recently patented a folding bed that may be carried on a motor car. The bed opens in a flash, as may be seen from the cut, and when closed holds a mattress and pneumatic pillows. When open it can be used as a table, and when shut it may be made to serve as a seat.

A FEARLESS LAWYER.

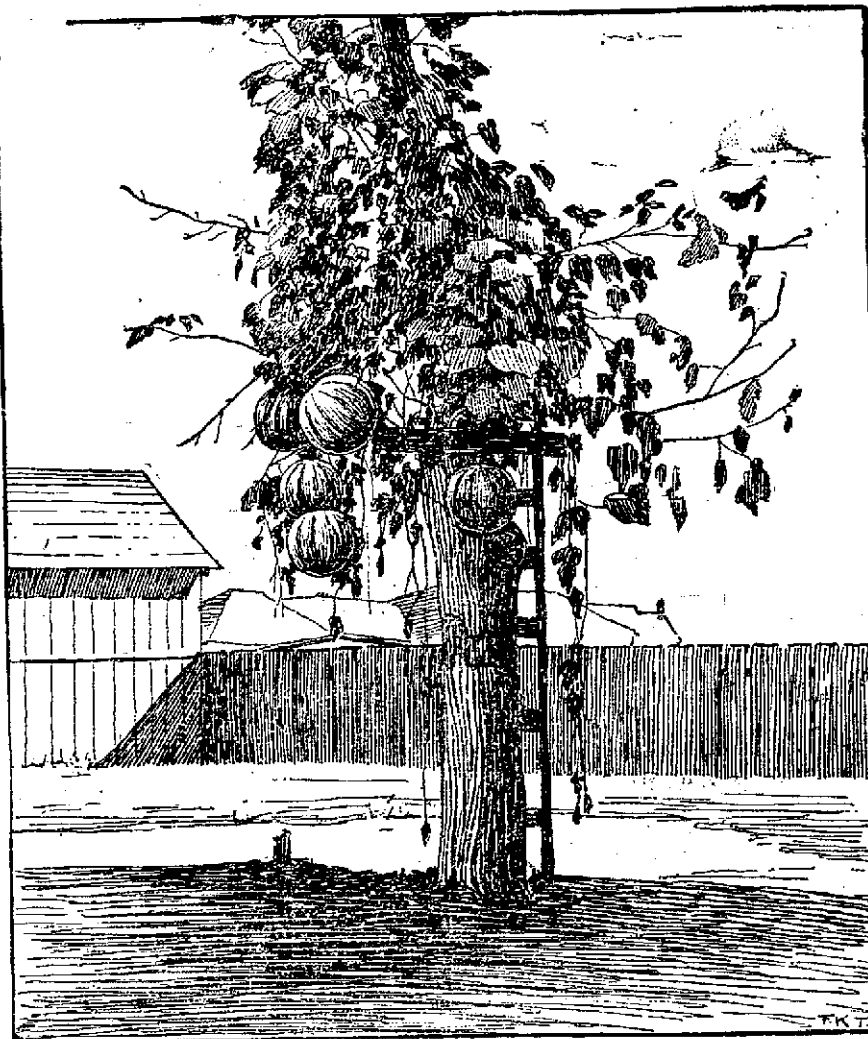

Francis J. Heney, who is one of the leading figures in the San Francisco graft investigation, is the attorney who was selected by Attorney General Moody to represent the government in the Oregon land swindle cases. His activity led to the indictment and conviction of the late Senator Mitchell and other influential politicians. Now he has added to his reputation by collecting evidence against the mayor of San Francisco and his legal adviser, which has resulted in their indictment.

AN EXALTED PERSONAGE.

The cut is from the first photograph ever taken of the Tibetan Tashi lama. Until the recent British mission to the mysterious kingdom the person of the great lama was held to be so sacred that no portrait of him might be taken under pain of death. Now, however, he has consented to sit before the camera, and the world knows that he is only a rather good looking Tibetan of the better class.

HOW VINES GROW IN CALIFORNIA.

The picture illustrates a not unfamiliar sight in southern California, where vegetation of all kinds makes a wonderful growth in a single season. This particular pumpkin vine grew along the roadside near Los Angeles and completely covered the trunk and remaining branches of a dead tree, extending to a height of about twenty feet. It was a pretty sight during the blossoming period, and later, when the golden fruit hung from the branches, it was even more beautiful.

THE FOE OF GRAFTERS.

William H. Langdon, district attorney at San Francisco, has recently come into prominence in connection with the majority scandal in the Golden Gate City. Although he was put into office by the party in power he suspected that the administration was not free from official crookedness and was instrumental in having the mayor indicted for graft. Although he was removed by the administration forces, the courts decided that the action was illegal, and Langdon still holds the fort.

The Perkins Family Have Their Troubles

Why the Head of the Family Did Not Exchange an Old Piano For a New One.

Copyright, 1906, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

MR. AND MRS. PERKINS had not seated for the evening and were seemingly content and happy when she looked up from her book and queried:

"Mr. Perkins, would it put you out very much if I were to ask you a question?"

"Why, dear, you may ask me ten thousand."

"And you won't be vexed?"

"Nothing you could say would vex me. Proceed."

"Well, one day last May, when we were sitting on the front steps, I spoke to you about the piano. Do you remember?"

"I do, my dear, and I have the evidence right here in my pocket. My memorandum book says it was on the 18th day at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. It was a beautiful day. What you said to me about the piano was:

"It is forty years old.
"It is old fashioned.
"It has straight legs.
"There are seven broken keys.
"The pedals are out of order.
"It wheezes like an old horse.
"Everybody makes fun of it.
"Can't you turn it in toward a new one?"

"Those were your observations, Mrs. Perkins. Have you anything to add to them tonight?"

"Did you put down what you said in reply?"

"I did, and here it is:
"Yes, it is an old piano.
"I have been ashamed of it for years."

"During the next three months I shall turn it in toward a new one."

"It must drive the neighbors distracted to hear you try to play on it."

"Say no more, darling. You shall have a new piano before the 1st of September."

"Those were our respective remarks and observations, Mrs. Perkins, as accurately recorded here, and have you anything to add to them at this moment?"

"SHE WAS POUNDING."

"Well, I wanted to call your attention to the fact that September had come and gone."

"I acknowledge it."

"And the old piano stands there yet in the parlor."

"Acknowledged again."

"And, so far as I know, no steps have been taken to replace it with a new one."

"Not a step, Mrs. Perkins, and I am now prepared to reason the case with you. I have been expecting to reason it with you for the last month—in fact, I was hoping you would speak to me about it this very evening."

"Well, I have spoken."

"You see, my dear," began Mr. Perkins, as he drew a long breath, "we must begin at the beginning. Neither of us is a musician. We have neither son nor daughter to play. We might just as well have a corn sheller in the parlor for all the use we could make of it. If we had a thousand dollar piano, what good would it do us?"

"Why, I play, and you know I do and have praised me," replied Mrs. Perkins in an injured tone.

"My dear woman, let us look facts in the face. You drum on the piano. You howl an accompaniment. You roll your eyes. You hump your shoulders. At various times I have said that you played beautifully. I did it to keep you playing and have revenge on the neighbors."

"How dare you talk to me that way?"

"Come, now, be reasonable. You never took a music lesson in your life, did you?"

"No, but what of that?"

"You can't sing any more than a crow."

"But if I can't—"

"I don't revert to these things to humiliate you, Mrs. Perkins, but simply to clear the ground for a start. It is a husband's business to praise his wife's playing even if it gives him toothache. The cold fact is that neither of us can play or sing. Therefore, of what use is a thousand dollar piano? You will answer that one would look nice in the parlor. I agree with you, but when you have a $1,000 piano you must have a $500 rug to go with it; also a new parlor suit."

"But there are several neighbors who can play and sing," protested Mrs. Perkins.

"I haven't the slightest doubt of it, Mrs. Perkins. There are several neighbors who can wear your hats and shoes, but are you going to keep hats and shoes for the neighbors? Suppose, however, that we went ahead and got a new piano. Do you know that piano playing makes women round shouldered and weak chested and consumptive?"

"I never heard that it did and don't believe it."

"I could give you medical statistics by the cartload. Within the last ten years paralysis of the arms has become so common that the doctors attribute it to piano playing. There are hundreds of instances where young ladies have lost the use of both arms for a year. If we had a piano I couldn't run the risk of your losing the use of your arms. How, then, could you longer hug me? How prepare the meals and make the bed?"

"You are simply trying to twist out of it, just as you always do," said Mrs. Perkins, with her eyes full of tears.

"My dear, I am no twister. I am simply a logician and a philosopher. I reason things to a conclusion. We cannot afford a $1,000 piano, and on top of it a $500 rug, a $250 parlor suit and five or six paintings costing $100 apiece. All that capital would be shut up in a cold parlor for the winter. If put into ice for next season it might be doubled. And there's another thing."

"Oh, you can be finding excuses for a week to come."

"This is no excuse, but a fact. That old straight legged, broken keyed piano belonged to my first wife. I don't jump up and grow red in the face, for I'm not hitting at you. The first time I called to see her, when we were both young people, she was playing on that piano. She was pounding. She was howling. Her eyes were rolling heavenward. I fell in love with her at once."

"I won't stay," declared Mrs. Perkins as she stamped her foot on the floor.

"Just a moment, my dear. She continued to pound and howl all through our engagement. She brought the old piano along when we were married. Every day and every evening it was pound and howl. I talked to her of the risks she ran, but she was self-willed. She finally began to fade. The doctor said she lasted a year longer than he expected, but she went with a rush when she did go. She had been pounding and howling one evening and the neighbors had telephoned for the police and all the dogs for a mile around were barking, when I observed a sudden change come over her, and she fell off the piano stool and was dead in a moment. She never opened her eyes or spoke. There's my case, Mrs. Perkins, and."

"I say you are a dodger and a twister!" exclaimed Mrs. Perkins as she gave a sniff of contempt and walked stiffly out of the room.

Mr. Perkins stooped to scratch his ankle and then straightened up to scratch his nose and then smiled and said to himself:

"But, then, don't a married man have to be?"

John Mitchell Appointed a Trustee of the Nobel Peace Prize—Secretary Hitchcock's Land Order to Stand. General Intelligence of the National Capital.

Washington, Dec. 21.—Edwin C. Madden, third assistant postmaster general, says in his report regarding the question of second-class mail matter that it was proposed to meet the situation by the establishment of a rate of 4 cents a pound on second-class matter and remove all present restrictions. He urges that what is needed is an up-to-date, workable law—a law that can be enforced, a law that the terms and limitations of which will be plain to publishers, to postmasters and to the departments. These recommendations were made by Mr. Madden. That the rate of postage on letters not exceeding one ounce deposited in any postoffice for local delivery by its carriers or otherwise shall be uniform at 1 cent each; but if the letter be forwarded to another postoffice the rate be 2 cents; that the seven different rates of postage for the second class and the one rate for the third class be abandoned.

Senator Gallinger opened fight in the senate for increase of salaries of members of congress, which movement was defeated recently in the house. He introduced an amendment to the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill providing for an increase to $7,500 annually of the salaries of senators, representatives and delegates in congress.

Secretary Hitchcock, who was called before the senate committee on Indian affairs, declared that his order withdrawing 4,000,000 acres of land belonging to the five civilized tribes will stand. The land will not be restored unless the investigation as to the legality of his act, now in progress, develops that he exceeded his authority.

The president announced acceptance by John Mitchell, head of United Mine Workers of America, as a representative of labor, and Marvin Hughitt, president of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company, as a representative of capital, of the positions tendered them by the president as members of the board of trustees to whom he will convey the amount of Nobel peace prize.

Lafolette's Bills.

Washington, Dec. 21.—Senator Lafolette introduced bills to amend the railroad rate bill passed during the last session of congress and adding one section to provide for the investigation of valuation of railroad property. The proposed amendments are along the line of amendments offered by the Wisconsin senator while the rate bill was under consideration in the senate.

FORAKER

Criticizes Action of Roosevelt in Discharging Negro Troops.

Washington, Dec. 21.—In the senate, Mr. Foraker (O.) delivered an extended and sharp criticism of the basis of President Roosevelt's action in discharging the negro troops of the Twenty-fifth infantry on account of the Brownsville raid. He was replied to briefly by Senator Lodge, while Senator Scott sustained the demand of the Ohio senator for a full investigation of the matter by the senate military committee. A resolution directing such an investigation is before the senate for action at its next meeting. The senate adjourned until Jan. 3.

Discussing the president's message on the Brownsville affair, Senator Foraker said:

"Congress has always been careful to provide that no man found guilty of an offense should be punished otherwise than as congress might direct. The president says this is the most atrocious crime ever committed. If these men committed the crime, and did shoot up Brownsville, I agree with him. I have no sympathy with that sort of thing, and it may be that it was done. But I repeat that what I want to call attention to is that the president has misconceived both his constitutional power and the evidence in this case. The president says the guilt of these men has been established by the testimony of scores of eye-witnesses, as shown by the report of Major Blocksam. I have counted the witnesses in the report of Major Blocksam and there are just 21 of them. A score would mean at least 20. Their testimony was taken by a self-constituted citizens' committee and no oaths administered."

Mr. Foraker went into an elaborate defense of the Sixtieth Ohio regiment, which the president cited as a precedent in the case. He said that not only did this case furnish no precedent but that there was no such precedent anywhere to be found.

Referring to mutiny and refusing to testify, which Mr. Foraker said were the offenses charged against the negro troops "because they refused to testify to what the officers assumed they had knowledge," he exclaimed, "There is no occasion which permits summary, arbitrary, dictatorial punishment. A courtmartial is in each case provided for by congress."

Mr. Foraker then went through the evidence in question, reading extracts from the testimony and eliminating as "eye-witnesses" those who said they had not seen those who did the shooting until he reduced the number of actual eye-witnesses to eight. As to these he remarked that their testimony was "utterly unsatisfactory and insufficient" to find the men guilty of the crime with which they were charged. Senator Foraker then paid his respects to Major Blocksam, who made the report. The major, he said, was a native of Zanesville, O., his father was an ardent "Vallandigham Copperhead Democrat" of a school known to entertain violent antipathy to the negro. Major Blocksam, Foraker continued, had evidently developed an enthusiastic admiration for one of the witnesses, Captain McDonald of the Texas Rangers, as evidenced by the statement in his report that "this man was so brave that he would charge hell with a bucket of water." "I would like to cross-examine a man so brave as that," remarked the senator.

Don't buy cigars simply because they are in a pretty box. Take the quality into consideration, rather than quantity, and don't be too careful of your money. This is advice to women.

WORKMAN CUT IN TWO.

Mansfield, Dec. 21.—While Jeremiah Buell, an employee of the Pennsylvania company was working under a car the train started and he was cut in two.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address: Dr. Kilmer & Co., Home of Swamp-Root, P.O. Box 589, Binghamton, N.Y. When writing men- tion reading this generous offer in the paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N.Y., on every bottle.

WHITE FURS FOR THE DEBUTANTE.

It is quite a settled matter that the debutante of this year of grace will follow the fad for white wherever possible in her wardrobe, and in no other department of her dress or gowning does this same dictum insure such becoming effects as in the matter of furs. A delightful instance of this is afforded in the illustration on this page, wherein are depicted a little ermine caraco—minus the usual and almost characteristic tails, by the way—a pillow muf and a smart velvet hat, first-trimmed, the whole forming the most charming effect in conjunction with a white lace gown, cleverly touched up with maroon velvet. And, en passant, it were not amiss to note that the conjunction of white and certain shades of brown is highly favored just now by the ultra-fastidious in dress. Black and white have been used so much together that some little point of change is welcome, and the soft shades of brown that rule just now are admirably well calculated to set off the charm of white to the best advantage.

The velvet hat is somewhat on the order of a narrow-brimmed sailor, high crown and steep cache-peigne in the back, well ruffled with frothy mallette. A band of ermine is loosely tacked around the crown, and two white plumes are posed at the back, the tips falling on the hair. The little coat is what is known as an Empire bolero, short and loose and fashioned with a tiny flat flounce of the fur all the way around the edge. The sleeve is original in its arrangement; a cape flounce of the fur at the shoulder, then a puff of lace and finally an elbow puff of the fur again. The muf in a big pouch shape has a turnover top fringed with the little black tails.

LEGAL NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that on the 3rd day of December, A. D. 1906, there was presented to the Commissioners of the County of Licking, State of Ohio, a petition representing that an ordinance was passed by the Council of the City of Newark, State of Ohio, on the 19th day of November, 1906, authorizing the annexation to said the following described territory:

"Situated in the Township of Newark, in the County of Licking, and the State of Ohio, and bounded and described as follows: Commencing at a point in the north corporation line three hundred (300) yards west of the center line of North Fourth street; thence due north to the lane between the lands of James Linehan, Teresa Lavin and J. R. Fitzgibbon on the south, and the heirs of Benjamin Franklin on the north; thence east along the south line of said lane and the south line of the first alley north of Channel street to the center of the North Fork of the Licking river; thence southerly with the meanderings of the North Fork of the Licking river to the north corporation line of the City; thence west along said north corporation line to the place of beginning"

Said Council authorized and directed the undersigned as their agent in securing such annexation.

The said Board of Commissioners has fixed the 20th day of February, A. D. 1906, as the time for hearing said petition, at the office of the Commissioners at Newark, Licking county, Ohio.

More than Twenty-two Million

Dr. Edward's Tablets and Pills have been purchased during the past two years. Somebody must be pleased with the results obtained by using them. Hadn't you better try them yourself? It will not cost you a cent to obtain a trial package from the drug store named below.

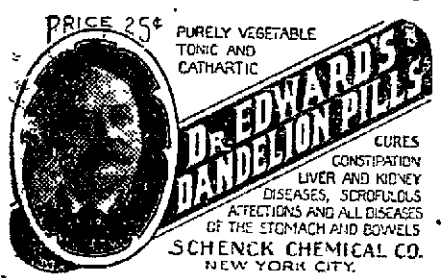

We do not claim that they will cure every disease, but we do claim that they are the best known remedies for the following troubles:

The Tablets cure
Rheumatism
Kidney Trouble
Liver Trouble
Dyspepsia
Constipation

The Pills cure
Stomach Trouble
Bowel Troubles
Liver Trouble
Kidney Troubles
Constipation

All these troubles react one on the other. A deranged Stomach produces a weak Heart. A diseased Liver brings on stomach trouble, biliousness and constipation. Overworked Kidneys permit an excess of uric acid in the blood and then you have Rheumatism and may be Bright's Disease and Diabetes.

Don't take any chances, but get a trial package of Dandelion Tablets without delay.

Both Tablets and Pills are sold by all Druggists. Price 25 cents.

Dear Sir:—For about seven years I have been tortured with rheumatism. I had it in my arms and joints so bad that I could scarcely raise my hands to my head or work at my feet. But now, thanks to your wonderful Dandelion Tablets, I have not had a pain in six months, which I consider very remarkable as I had suffered so long. I want to recommend it to all suffering from this painful and irritating disease.

OHIO SHIPPERS SCORE A POINT

State Railroad Commission Makes an Important Ruling.

POWER TO PROBE ALL RATES

Flaw in Law Nullifies the Sultana Commission — Slaver of Marshal Basore Guilty in the First Degree. Former Consul Cuneo Dead—Toledo Terminal Sued.

Columbus, O., Dec. 21.—Ohio shippers scored what they consider an important victory when the state railroad commission ruled that it had power to investigate freight rates, as to their reasonableness, even though they might be lower than rates established by the legislature in an old law. The decision of the commission, given in the complaint of the Campbell's Creek Coal company against the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern railroad, opens the door for hearing all complaints on switching charges. It has become evident from the statements made by attorneys at the present hearing that practically every important ruling made by the commission will be carried to the courts for final review.

When Attorney Barton for the railway interests offered a motion looking to the striking out of a clause in the complaint on the ground that the state had no jurisdiction over matters of interstate commerce, Commissioner Hughes replied that he was willing to test this point in the courts.

Mayor Will Not Pay Costs.
Bucyrus, O., Dec. 21.—A circumstance has arisen which may make it possible for criminals to go free in Bucyrus. Mayor Valentine, father of the Valentine anti-trust law, has announced that he will not try any more state cases. The law prescribes that mayors may not collect costs from the county in state cases in excess of $100 per year. Mayor Valentine has been asked by the state board of accountants to turn back to the county $124 which he collected last year in excess of the amount prescribed by law. Mayor Valentine insists he will not pay the costs himself to prosecute state cases.

Flaw in Sultana Act.
Columbus, O., Dec. 21.—The charges of corruption in the Sultana monument commission are not sustained by the evidence adduced in the investigation made by Attorney General Ellis. Such is the substance of the report Mr. Ellis made to Governor Harris. He finds, however, that the act creating the commission does not specifically grant authority to place the monument in the state Capitol grounds, though that is the evident intention, and he recommends that no further action be taken by the commission until the legislature gives it that authority.

Sues Toledo Terminal.
Toledo, O., Dec. 21.—The Commonwealth Trust company of St. Louis, which financed the Toledo Terminal and Railway company, which owns a belt line encircling the city, with passenger and freight depots, filed suit in the United States court here to foreclose its mortgage on the property for failure to pay interest on bonds amounting to $157,000 due last July. By reason of this failure, the plaintiff states, the principal of the first mortgage 4 1/2 per cent gold bonds amounting to $3,500,000 with interest are also due.

Pipe Line Company's Request.
Columbus, O., Dec. 21.—The tax remission commission, consisting of Governor Harris, Attorney General Ellis and Auditor of State Guilbert, was in session listening to testimony developed by Prosecuting Attorney David of Hancock county and Attorney Wheeler, representing the Buckeye Pipe Line company. The pipe line corporation is asking that there be remitted $100,000 in taxes which has been added to its valuation by the county auditor and tax inquisitor for the period from 1900 to 1905.

Dynamite Exploded.
Toledo, O., Dec. 21.—Charles Minehart was blown 50 feet through the air and instantly killed while blasting stumps on his farm north of this city. Minehart had put dynamite under a stump and lighted a fuse. He thought the latter had been extinguished and kneeled down to examine it when the charge exploded. Part of his head was blown off.

Gravedigger's Mistake.
Camden, N. J., Dec. 21.—What promised to be a sensational solution of the sending of a wrong body to Bryan, O., as that of John P. Long, has turned out to be merely a gravedigger's mistake. The right body was exhumed and positively identified by Dr. James Long, a cousin.

Adverse to Widow.
Tiffin, O., Dec. 21.—The jury in the McCollum case returned a verdict for $18,922.66 in favor of the plaintiff, Leon McCollum. The defense sought by the most eminent bandwriting experts in the country to show that the note in question had been forged by the plaintiff. Dr. McCollum died two years ago, disinheriting his only son by a former marriage and leaving his property to his young widow. Later the son brought suit to recover on an alleged promissory note for $8,000, dated 1884. To pay this judgment will take every cent of the estate and leave the widow penniless.

Editor Cuneo Passes Away.
Upper Sandusky, O., Dec. 21.—Pietro Cuneo, late United States consul to Turin, Italy, died at his home in this city of apoplexy, with which he was stricken Wednesday. Mr. Cuneo was for many years editor and publisher of the Wyandot Republican and was one of the most widely known editors in the state.

Slaver of Marshal to Die.
Lebanon, O., Dec. 21.—Henry White, colored, was found guilty in the first degree of the murder of Marshal Basore. It carries the death penalty. While awaiting the marshal while resisting arrest. The verdict was a popular one, its announcement being followed by the blowing of whistles and ringing of bells.

Sweeping Down the Ohio.
Bellair, O., Dec. 21.—The typhoid fever scourge, which has been raging in Pittsburgh for some time, is sweeping down the Ohio river and has reached the town in this vicinity. Wheeling has many cases and several have developed here. The river water is alleged by physicians to be the cause.

Tramps Fire Elevator.
Springfield, O., Dec. 21.—Brooks & Collier's grain elevator at Mad river, one mile north of Enon, was burned to the ground, entailing loss of $6,000. It was well filled with wheat and corn. Two Big Four cars were burned. T. W. Brooks suspects tramps of setting fire to the elevator.

LOCK.
Carroll Stoughton of Columbus is spending a few days here with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Perkins and daughter Fanny visited with Mrs. Trout Sunday.

Mrs. Myers is visiting at William Rowland's.

Clint Dustin and family spent Sunday at the home of William Baker near Croton.

Rosie Booker visited with her mother at Mr. Douglass' home Sunday.

W. D. Stoughton was at Homer Saturday on business.

STRENGTH COMES

Not From What You Eat, But From What You Digest.

Most people eat most foods without discrimination—it matters little what. Few stop to think what that food does for them. This is the first turn on the road to dyspepsia. Reckless disregard of the proper choice of foods, rapid eating and improper mastication, are the unquestioned causes of all stomach disorders from the slight ache to the malignant cancer.

There is nothing more revolting than a dyspeptic stomach—a very real torture, sending forth its poison throughout the entire system, depressing the brain, befouling the breath, souring the taste, deadening the muscles, incapacitating the liver and kidneys for their work, debilitating the heart, choking the lungs and clogging the bowels.

All of these disagreeable and dangerous conditions are due to the improper digestion of food and the consequent assimilation of poison. What else can be expected? If the food lies in the stomach, if the system is constipated, fermentation is the natural outcome. It shows itself in sour watery risings, belchings, heartburn and painful breathing.

There is only one way to relieve this condition. If the stomach refuses to digest your food put something into it that will. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are nothing but digestives. They are not a medicine. They work when the stomach will not.

Each tablet contains enough pepsin diastase, golden seal and other digestive elements to reduce 3,000 grains of ordinary food to the proper consistency for assimilation into the blood.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are absolutely pure. There is nothing harmful in them as shown in their endorsement by 40,000 physicians in the United States and Canada.

Ask your family physician his opinion of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and if he is honest toward you he will state positively that they will cure your stomach trouble whatever it may be, unless you have waited too long and have allowed your disorder to develop into cancer.

Act today and begin to end your suffering. A free trial package will be sent to your address upon request. The 50 cent size packages are for sale at your druggist's. F. A. Stuart Co., 67 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

OFFICIALS HOLD DEMAND UNFAIR

Discuss the Ultimatum Issued by the New York Yardmen.

CLAIM CONTRACT IS BROKEN

Men Threaten to Leave the Service of the Several Railway Companies Saturday Unless Increase of Wages Is Granted — Leading Roads Involved in Dispute.

New York, Dec. 21.—The strike ultimatum of the New York yardmen is declared by the general managers of the lines affected to be "most astonishing and unjust." A statement to this effect was given out following a meeting of the general managers' association in the offices of Vice President and General Manager Besler of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, chairman of the association. It also was stated that the managers have as yet come to no conclusion as to what action will be taken, but have requested Grand Master Morrissey of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen to come to New York immediately. The situation is regarded as acute in view of the holiday rush on the railroads. The managers declare the men have violated contracts.

The ultimatum states the men will leave the services of the several companies Dec. 22 unless their request of an increase of 5 cents an hour is granted.

This note to the general managers declared that failure to concede the 5 cents an hour increase would be regarded as a refusal to deal fairly with your men as the New York Central, and all members of the brotherhood of trainmen employed in the yards of the company would leave the service Dec. 22. Grand Master Morrissey is a member of the executive committee of the Civic Federation, which has been the intermediary in settling a number of strikes.

C. W. SIFFERD SHOCKED BY NEWS

Following is taken from a Kansas newspaper relative to Rev. C. W. Sifferd, a former Newark minister, Mr. J. D. Vanatta:

C. W. Sifferd, pastor of St. Lutheran church, read with great interest the Republic's dispatch from Jackson, Ohio, regarding shooting of several passengers in crowded street car by a demented miner.

One of the persons seriously wounded was J. D. Vanatta of Newark, O. Vanatta was a boy in my day school when I was pastor at Jackson, Ohio. "I baptized and confirmed him, married him and reared his first child. I was the pastor at Newark for 15 years. Mr. Vanatta came of a fine family and a splendid young man. His wife was charming. I shall write to the editor to express my sympathy."

Sifferd said Mr. Vanatta was proprietor of a prosperous piano in a prominent location in New-

MASKED ROBBER

After Fatally Injuring Ticket Agent at Leadville Steals Cash and Escapes.

Leadville, Colo., Dec. 21.—A masked robber, after shooting and fatally wounding Joe Dale, ticket agent at the Denver & Rio Grande depot, robbed the cash drawer of its contents and escaped. A posse is in pursuit.

OLD-AGE PENSIONS.

Civil Service Reform League Declares Scheme to Be Bad.

New York, Dec. 21.—A blow to all schemes for old-age pensions for civil service employees, whether in the state or nation, was delivered by the National Civil Service Reform league, which made public the result of its exhaustive study of the subject. The league finds that any pension scheme founded on government aid is bad. A civil pension list on the English basis would cost the national government $19,000,000 a year for the classified service alone, and $25,000,000 for the whole service, whereas at present the government's loss from inefficiency of its employees who are 65 years of age, expressed in salary, equals only $1,200,000 a year.

NOT AWARE OF NOTE

London, Dec. 21.—A dispatch from The Hague declares that the permanent court of arbitration is not aware of the alleged note from Germany and Russia to the United States stating they do not desire to discuss the question of the limitation of armaments at the next peace conference.

Freight Train Smashed.

Richmond, Ind., Dec. 21.—Damage estimated at $50,000 was sustained when the third section of freight train No. 73, westbound, on the Pennsylvania railroad, ran into the second section from the rear at East Germantown. No one was killed or injured.

Will Succeed Bryce.

London, Dec. 21.—In well-informed parliamentary circles Augustine Birrell, president of the board of education, is now regarded as first favorite for the post of chief secretary for Ireland, which will become vacant when James Bryce is transferred to the British embassy at Washington.

DENISON BETAS HOLD RECEPTION

Granville, O., Dec. 21.—The Alpha Eta Chapter of Beta Theta Pi have a reception in their chapter house, Thursday, receiving the ladies of the village in the afternoon and the young ladies of the college in the evening. The dining room was artistically decorated with ferns and the American Beauty Rose, the Beta flower—the room being lighted by red candles. Those in the receiving line in the afternoon were Mr. Wm. Shepard, Mr. Campbell, Mr. May McKibben, Miss Stella Moore and Mrs. McKinnon. Holly was given as favors and chocolate was poured by Misses Pearl Ferguson, Stella Moore, Marguerite Jones and Bess Trumper. In the evening the young ladies were received by the Misses Hoyt, Eleanor Chaffee and Frances Priest. A delicious luncheon was served and chocolate was poured by Misses Helen McCarthy, Bertha Latimer and Bertha Fulton.

Roses were given as favors by Miss Margaret Chaffee and Miss Bertha Fulton. Delightful music was furnished both afternoon and evening by a Zanesville orchestra, and the entire affair was a brilliant success, reflecting much credit on the Betas.

Disastrous Blaze.

Butler, Pa., Dec. 21.—Mrs. Frank Mills, 50, was burned to death and 60 persons made homeless by a fire which caused a loss of $10,000. The fire followed an explosion of a can of oil which the woman was pouring in a stove.

Ended His Own Life.

Mayville, Wis., Dec. 21.—William F. Boercher formerly director of the Liederkranz at Milwaukee and for the last eight years director of the Oshkosh, Fond Du Lac and Mayville maennerchor, committed suicide by hanging to the top of a side ladder of a freight car. Despondency over the refusal of a New York opera manager to accept an opera which he had written is believed to have caused him to become insane.

Nanking, China, Dec. 21.—About 2,000 soldiers from Nanking armed with modern weapons trained by European officers, and accompanied by batteries of field artillery, proceeded to the front to meet rebels in the Ping-kiang district.

CREDITORS HOLD BAG

Judge Landis Orders Investigation of Affairs of the Lincoln Bank of Chicago.

Chicago, Dec. 21.—Judge Landis in the United States district court ordered an immediate investigation of the affairs of the Lincoln bank of Morton Park, which passed into the hands of a receiver. When the receiver was appointed the court was assured that all of the creditors would be paid in full, but the developments are such that it is feared the creditors will receive little or nothing.

PRESIDENT

Requests Harriman to Repair Break in Colorado River.

Washington, Dec. 21.—President Roosevelt is exerting his efforts to have the break in the Colorado river in Mexico repaired as soon as possible by the California Development company, which, he declares, is ultimately responsible for it. With this end in view he addressed a telegram to E. H. Harriman at New York, reciting the conditions as they now exist and the inability to secure action by congress because of the adjournment for the Christmas holidays. The president told Mr. Harriman that it is incumbent upon him to close the break again, and that action should be taken without an hour's delay.

Y. M. C. A. JUNIORS TO BE WELL CARED FOR

The management of the Y. M. C. A. has long felt the need of a better organized work among its junior members. With this in view Mr. Ludwig has consented to take the boys in charge until the Board of Directors can provide means to support a regular junior secretary.

A fine, large room on the third floor has been fitted up with game tables and reading matter. The boys are divided into two sections according to age. On the afternoons the elder boys are in the gym. This older boys are enjoying their club room. This order is reversed when the older boys are in the gym. This is a very wise arrangement, as it brings the boys of an age together.

The boys are all very much pleased with their new rooms, and as proof of their appreciation are asking for space on the wall to place pictures they wish to present to their own rooms.

The aim of the junior department will be to find out what the boys like to do, and then help them do it in small clubs, or groups, such as "A Stamp club," "Mineral club," "Bible Study club," "Kodak club," etc.

A plan is being perfected to have special meetings every Sunday at 2:30 p. m. for the boys where they will listen to special boys talks by the leading ministers, doctors and business men of Newark. These talks will be made very interesting and no boy can afford to miss them.

Delegates Elected.

Paul Sachs, Rollie Allen and Geo. McElroy have been appointed as delegates to represent the juniors at the State Boys' Conference to be held in Springfield December 28, 29 and 30. They expect to bring back very good news from the different Boys' Clubs throughout Buckeyeodom.

Junior Basket Ball.

Two very close games were played on the Y floor. The Tigers took first game of the season from the Specials by a score of 9 to 2. Lineup:

Tigers—G. Chilcote rf; D. Clayton lf; F. Beutlich c; R. Long rg; E. Kellum lg.

Specials—E. Eilsley rf, G. McElroy lf; L. Hall c; Joe Measure rg; W. Fordice lg.

The Iroquois and Don't Knows had it out to the bitter end. The Don't Knows won the game by caging a foul, otherwise the Iroquois would have had the opportunity of playing off a tie. Iroquois 9, Don't Knows 10. Lineup:

Iroquois—P. Sacks rf; V. Long lf; D. Clayton c; J. George rg; R. Tibout lg.

Don't Know—B. Sook rf; F. Keller lf; F. Beutlich c; R. Long lg.

ST. LOUISVILLE.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Riley spent Sunday with the former's brother, near Utica.

The entertainment to have been given Saturday evening by the M. E. Sunday school, has been changed to a Christmas tree and entertainment to be given on the same evening.

The impersonation given Monday evening was by far the best number of the course thus far. The next number will be a lecture by Milton Brown, to be given Saturday evening, January 12.

The next session of the local O. T. R. C. will be held in the High school room, the first Friday evening of next term.

School closed Friday for the usual holiday vacation.

Very few teachers from here attended the quarterly association last Saturday.
